Cub Scout named nominee for national youth honors

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record
Cub Scout J. Bradford Choat, who will be 10 years old Monday, has been chosen as the North Central Region Boy Scouts of America nominee for Cub Scout National Youth Representative.

Choat was chosen from 150,586 Cub Scouts in 5,606 Cub Scout packs in the 10½ state area covered by the region, headquartered in Kansas City, Mo.

He first had to be selected as the local Chahokia Mound Council's Representative and then entered a two and one-half state area competition, followed by the regional selection.

There are five regions and one of the five regional Cub Scouts will be selected by the national BSA activities committee to be the 1982 Cub Scout national youth representative.

The national Cub Scout representative will then join a Boy Scout and an Explorer, plus the national chief of the Order of the Arrow, as a member of the "report

Parade, closings will mark Labor Day

A massive Labor Day parade in which more than 1,000 marchers are expected to participate will highlight a series of Labor Day festivities Monday in the Quad-City area.

The parade will start promptly at 10 a.m. at 12th Street between Washington and Iowa streets in Madison and proceed down 12th Street to Madison Avenue. The line of march will proceed north on Madison to 23rd Street in Granite City where it will disband.

Banks and other financial institutions, offices and many stores will close for the day, giving the work force a three-day holiday over the approaching weekend. Picnics, barbecues and other festivities are planned in the area during the weekend holiday.

It will be the first Labor Day parade in Granite City in 24 years.

All area banks and financial institutions will observe a three-day weekend, closing at regular times on Friday and remaining closed until normal opening hours on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

The Madison County courthouse offices, all Illinois State offices and local city offices will be closed Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

There will be mail delivery and regular lobby services on Saturday at the local post offices, but there will be no mail delivery on Monday.

Mail will be handled on a regular holiday schedule on Monday.

Some stores are remaining open on Labor Day, but the majority are closing.

The Granite City Press-Record will publish on Tuesday, Sept. 8, instead of Monday, then resume the regular publishing schedule on Thursday.

A parade committee headed by Edwin Reiske, president of the Granite City Trades and Labor Council, and Robert Means, subdistrict director of the United Steelworkers of America, has been meeting weekly to complete preparations for the parade.

To date, 26 parade marshals have been appointed to lead different units of the parade.

"We are planning to make this an annual event," Reiske said, adding that "We hope it will help instill pride in our union organizations by the younger men. In the past, the younger element

Schools open; 2-yr. pact

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
Granite City public schools reopened today after last night's ratification by teachers of a two-year agreement.

Salaries will rise 10 percent now and an additional 9½ percent a year from now. The cost will be $1.34 million in 1981-82 and perhaps more of an increase than that in 1982-83, for a two-year period of nearly $4 million.

The second-year cost will be affected by such factors as school closings and staff reductions.

School officials and teachers believe that severe cuts in personnel may be ordered next spring due to costs exceeding revenue.

Today's classes for students are operating on a full-day, regular schedule, with all employees reporting and bus and food service provided.

The school district attempted to hold teacher workshops Aug. 24 and a half-day of classes Aug. 27 but had only small faculty turnouts. Those days will be in the school calendar, however.

Officials called off school on Aug. 25, 26, 28 and 31 and Sept. 1 and 2. No strike was called, but about 565 of the 590 teachers were failing to report.

Although a tentative salary agreement was reached Tuesday night, there were no classes yesterday because administrators wanted to give parents and students at least 24 hours' notice of when classes would be held.

There will be no penalty against teachers and no major effect on students, other than the fact that the traditional ending of the spring term a few days ahead of the official schedule will not be possible this time.

And if school days have to be cancelled due to snow or other emergency conditions, these will be made up from the Easter vacation. The unrevised 1981-82 calendar calls for no classes to meet on Monday, April 5, through Good Friday, April 9.

Semesters will end in mid-January and on June 4, 1982.

Holidays will include next Monday, Sept. 7, which is Labor Day, and Columbus Day Oct. 12, Veterans' Day Nov. 11, Thanksgiving Nov. 26 (and 27), a Christmas and New Year vacation (no classes on Dec. 24 through Jan. 3), Lincoln's birthday Feb. 12 and Memorial Day (a school holiday) to be observed Monday, May 31.

Parent-teacher conferences are planned Nov. 5 and March 25, and a county institute March 26.

There will be 176 days of student attendance, the minimum state requirement.

How to get the new school year started was a dilemma frustrating both the administration and the faculty until Tuesday.

Their formal proposals for 1981-82 raises remained at 7.9 percent offered and 12.4 percent sought; the school district's formal second-year proposal was an offer of an additional 8.1 percent.

In addition to changes in the salary schedule, already-programmed in-

City plans 'luxury' tax

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

The cost of "winning and dining" in Granite City will increase by two percent soon, if the Granite City Council gives final approval, during a special meeting tonight to a new "luxury tax" on restaurants, taverns and package liquor stores. Customers will be required to pay a two percent tax on top of their bill when making purchases, if the ordinance is passed tonight.

The council also is to act tonight on an ordinance imposing a three percent tax on motel room rentals.

The two measures are intended to raise additional funds for the cash-starved city without imposing a utility tax on electricity. An attempt to give the new food, drink and motel taxes final passage during Tuesday night's regular meeting of the city council, without giving the public or businesses an opportunity to respond, failed by one vote, so a special meeting of the council was called for 7 tonight in township hall to make the new taxes "final, along with a $2.5 million annual tax levy for the city."

Mayor Paul Schuler contended that it is imperative that the council pass the taxes before the levy ordinance is sent to Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, which must be done by Tuesday, Sept. 8. He said he believes that if the council does not approve additional taxes before submitting the tax levies to her, she will raise the levies (the amounts of money to be collected by taxation) to a level sufficient to support the city's deficit budget.

Miss Bowles disagrees strongly. "I make no changes in the levies. Absolutely not," she told the Press-Record Wednesday.

She said the city can set any levies it wants, whether or not they support the budget. "I levy what's there and I compute a rate to support the levy. If that rate exceeds the maximum for that fund, I impose the maximum rate. I don't care what they have in their budget," Miss Bowles stated, adding, "I don't know why he (Mayor Schuler) would say something like that."

Schuler told the council Tuesday evening, "It has been my experience that if we send a deficit budget to the county clerk, she will then change the levy to correspond to providing the sums that you have outlined in your budget. You know you will be $400,000 short April 30, 1982, and if you do not levy the full amount to balance that out, then, going on past experience, the county clerk would raise the levy to cover that extra $400,000."

"It has happened when other taxing bodies I have been associated with and she is going to do it. That's her job," Schuler contended.

Miss Bowles said Wednesday that she strongly disagrees.

Based upon the mayor's contention that additional taxes would have to be approved this week to avoid massive property tax increases, the council attempted to give final approval to the new taxes on restaurants and taverns.

It requires a two-thirds majority of the full council to suspend the rules and place an ordinance on final passage the same night it is presented.

The motion to suspend the rules for final passage needed nine yes votes, but fell one short, ending with eight yes votes and four nos. Voting no on the motion were Aldermen Warren Decatur and Sharon Perjak of the Fourth Ward, Margaret Nott of the Fifth Ward and Stephen Salich of the Sixth Ward.

Voting in favor of suspending the rules were Aldermen Everett Morlen and Camer Skubish of the First Ward, Sam Whitmer and Fred "Pat" Schuman of the Second Ward, Paul Fisk and Carl Kittel of the Third Ward, Jake Varadani of the Fifth Ward and Mac Warfield of the Sixth Ward.

The Seventh Ward was not represented at the meeting, since both aldermen, Paul Ray Bowler and Mike Mudrosic were absent.

After failing to obtain suspension of the rules, the council then put the new taxes on first reading and agreed to hold the special meeting tonight to

City delays request for money to chip and oil some Granite City streets

A request by Granite City Superintendent of Streets Lionel Portell for a transfer of funds to oil and chip certain streets in the city was delayed by the city council Tuesday night, amidst a warning from City Engineer Monroe Brewer that the city's motor fuel tax could be $10,000 in the red by October, 1982.

Portell asked the council for permission to use motor fuel taxes and surpluses in other street department funds to purchase 30,000 gallons of oil and 1,000 tons of rock to maintain certain streets.

"After a review of the oil and chip streets, we feel that a certain amount of work is imperative to maintain these streets to some degree, to keep down extra cost for rebuilding at a later date."

"Several streets were repaved and others were redone from sewer replacement in the past year," he said, contending that these streets should be resurfaced before winter.

Portell's request brought an angry response from Mayor Paul Schuler, who asked why the oil and chip work was not included in Portell's budget, which was just passed recently. He criticized several department heads who have brought in last-minute funding requests and contended, "And that's how we got in trouble to begin with, as some of the older aldermen can tell you. Like the Cadillac street sweeper last year. Thank goodness we had the guts to turn that down."

Portell stressed that the work could be funded from existing street department accounts, at no additional cost to the city or the taxpayers.

He said, "I feel the work is necessary after going over some streets which are heavily traveled and were not built for the traffic they get."

He said there is $211,575 in the motor fuel tax budget, approximately $38,800 in the painter supplies rental budget and additional money available from the street department's reimbursable equipment rental fund.

Brewer disagreed, saying, "With the projected motor fuel tax revenues and our obligations, including the overpass, Myrtle Avenue, what we owe on Maryville Road and other obligations, by October, 1982, we could conceivably have a $10,000 deficit in the MFT funds."

Our intention (from the traffic engineering staff) is not to do any chip or resurfacing this year and save the money for next year to use a rented machine to re-do all of these pavements."

"It was a mild winter and the streets are not as bad as they seem," Brewer contended. He added that a heavy buildup of oil and chips has developed on some streets, which can be re-toiled and resurfaced next year, if the money is not spent this year.

Portell disagreed, saying new sewer lines have been installed under several streets, which should be reshaped and sealed before winter. "If you do not build up a mat on these streets, you are going to lose them," he stated.

Brewer warned that the normal monthly income from the motor fuel tax is about $40,000, but the city received only $33,000 in its last disbursement from the state. "If that continues, we could be in a lot of trouble in the MFT budget," he told the council.

Portell said the sole purpose of motor fuel taxes is "to keep the streets and sidewalks passable. If you don't maintain them, it is going to cost you a lot more later."

He said he did not include oil and chip in his original MFT budget because of the city cutbacks, uncertainty over staffing, and because the resurfacing work cannot be done until after Oct. 1, when there is cooler weather. He said he was told a transfer of funds could be done at any time, so he did not budget for the work at that time.

Mayor Schuler recommended that the request be referred to the council's street and alley committee to study and make a recommendation to the council.

"The council should be listening to the chairman of the committees and provide the chairman with the figures they need," Schuler said.

Mall name honors hero

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record
The Madison City Council Tuesday night officially named the new mini-mall the David R. Connole Alpine Village Shopping Center.

The late Commander Connole, born and reared in Madison, was a WW II Navy hero.

The contract for the center was awarded to the Winfield Construction Co., Edwardsville, the low bidder at $272,172.

Present at the meeting Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Connole, brother and sister-in-law of Commander Connole. Mayor Sayak said, "I am really proud to make this recommendation to the council for the naming of our new shopping center. Many of us feel this project is significant in Madison history, and will serve as a catalyst to even bigger things for Madison."

"We felt recognition should be given to someone really deserving and no one has given more to his country, or his family to the city of Madison, than the Connole's."

"Therefore I would like to entertain a motion that we name the center the

READY FOR ACTION. The new pumper truck delivered to the Eagle Park Acres Fire Protection District is displayed Wednesday morning in front of the volunteer-built fire station. The GMC pumper, with additional equipment, costing $52,829, will be put into full service upon the completion of training of the first 13 volunteer firemen. Next to the truck, from left, are: Eddie Lee Salmond, Venice Township highway commissioner and coordinator of the formation of the fire district; Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff; Percy Cuest, district maintenance man and fireman; and Raymond "Chuck" Mosby, prospective fire chief of the district. Salmond said that small fires could be handled by the district starting immediately.

HURT AS AUTO HITS WOOD UTILITY POST

Samuel T. Smith, 29, of 4007 Maryland Manor was arrested for reckless driving last week after his west-bound auto left Niedringhaus Avenue and struck a wooden Illinois Power Co. pole at Adams Street.

Sustaining multiple bruises about the legs and mouth, he also was booked for operating a vehicle in violation of a driving restriction, and for using a driving license that had expired more than six months ago.

Completes banking school

Thomas E. Holloway of First Granite City National Bank, has been awarded a diploma at the 37th annual commencement exercises of the Herbert V. Prochnow Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin-Madison for completion of the school's three-year program.

The school, sponsored by the 16 state bankers' associations in the Central States Conference of Bankers Associations, was established in 1945 to provide advanced study and research in banking, economics and monetary problems. This year, 1,900 students from 44 states and Puerto Rico attended.

Instruction in the Graduate School of Banking takes place in three two-week summer sessions, along with extension, home study work, to be completed in the period between summer resident sessions. A faculty of more

Unemployment in GC drops two percent

Good weather which contributed to increased outdoor construction activity was one of the primary reasons the unemployment rate in Granite City dipped two percent during July, according to figures released this week by the Illinois Department of Labor's Bureau of Employment Security.

The unemployment rate in Granite City dropped from 12.9 percent in June to 10.9 percent in July, and Madison County's unemployment rate dropped from 10.7 percent to 8.8 percent in the same period, according to data prepared by R.L. Worden of the research and analysis division.

Another reason for the dip was that a number of individuals departed the labor force due to the nonavailability of jobs, Worden said. In that category would be those who decided to return to schooling or training, women who decided to remain housewives, those who gave up looking for a job and others.

All major cities in Madison and St. Clair counties showed drops in unemployment rates, Alton's dropped from 12.3 percent to 10.1. Belleville noted a decline in unemployment from 13.9 percent to 12.2 and East St. Louis marked a drop from 11.8 percent to 9.9 percent between June and July, according to Worden's figures.

In Madison County, the labor force dropped from 118,184 persons in June to 116,540 in July, but the number of unemployed declined from 12,667 to 10,303 in the same period. The county unemployment rate thus declined from 10.7 percent in June to 8.8 percent in July.

Drops also were seen in the six other counties in this area. Bond County showing a decline from 10.7 percent to 8.8, Calhoun County dropping from 16.2 to 11.6, Clinton County decreasing from 10.2 to 8.4, Jersey County showing an improvement from 12.4 to 10.5, Monroe County decreasing from 9.5 to 7.7, and St. Clair County's unemployment dropping from 10.5 percent to 8.9 percent.

For the entire seven-county region, the unemployment rate in July stood at 8.8 percent, down from 10.5 percent in June. Of 272,934 persons in the labor force in those seven counties, 248,952 were actively employed during July, leaving 23,982 seeking work. The labor force dropped only slightly in the seven-county region, during the period, going from 176,293 in June to 272,934 in July, Worden concluded.

Trash pickup day late next week

Due to the Labor Day holiday on Monday, Sept. 7, trash pickups will be delayed one day it was announced by Jim Walla, District Manager of Mill Creek East Division of SCA Services.

All routes will be serviced one day later than usual with the exception of Friday, Walla said. He added, Thursday and Friday collections will be on Friday starting at 6 a.m. and there will not be a return pickup for late set-outs.

MAN SETS FIRE TO AUTO, FLEES AREA

A man with dark hair poured gasoline on a parked auto and set it afire at 5:55 a.m. Saturday in a parking lot at 23rd Street and Grand Avenue. Firemen who extinguished the blaze said the owner of the car is Lonnie Oliver, 2248 Grand.

The unknown arsonist, described by a witness as 5-10 in height, weighs 180 pounds, ran from the fire scene. Damage to the auto was limited to the lower left rear area, plus a window and taillight lens.

Hispanic week, 1981 Mexican fiesta planned

National Hispanic Heritage Week will be observed here in Mid-September.

In 1968, the president and Congress decided to set aside a week in September each year for observance of this nation's Hispanic legacy.

In preparation for the 1981 celebration, President Reagan has issued a proclamation declaring the week beginning Sept. 13 as National Hispanic Heritage Week. Similar proclamations have been issued by local government officials in this metropolitan area.

On Sept. 16, the Hispanic Employment Program Coordinator's Council will hold its annual award program together with a luncheon at the Mayfair Hotel, 8th and St. Charles streets, St. Louis.

Guest speaker will be Gus Rebledo, regional coordinator of Hispanic programs for the central region of the United States Postal Service. All federal agency heads, supervisors, personnel offices and others responsible for administering the Hispanic employment program are being invited to attend.

Two fiestas will be presented to commemorate the 171st anniversary of Mexican independence.

The Mexican Society "Benito Juarez" will sponsor one of the fiestas on Saturday, Sept. 12, at the Carondelet Sunday Morning Athletic Club, 1012 Loughborough, St. Louis.

The Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City will present the other fiesta on Sept. 19 at its hall located at 1401 Spruce St., Granite City.

Both fiestas will begin at 8 p.m. and will feature Mexican dancers, followed by music refreshments and Mexican food will be available for purchase.

The St. Charles Borromeo Church located at 2913 Locust also will be the focal point of several activities during National Hispanic Heritage Week.

Boy Scout Troop 7 holds Court of Honor

The summer Court of Honor for St. Joseph's Catholic Church Boy Scout Troop 7 was held Friday, Aug. 28, at the church.

Planning Arrow Patrol Leader Mark Brazel, planner and host for the Court, opened the festivities with the Pledge of Allegiance.

The Boy Scouts demonstrated ways of dealing with certain emergency situations. On a lighter note, the various patrols and leadership corps followed with campfire skits.

Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak then directed a quiz to the audience who quickly demonstrated they were not quite ready for advancement.

Ready for advancement, though, were the following Scouts:

Merit Badge certificates were presented by Steve Kusmierczak to: Jeff Kittel architecture, Jeff Kittel and Kevin Williamson camping, Jim Whitsett citizenship in the nation, Kusmierczak, cooking, Kittel dog care, Joey Kusmierczak, Kerry Martin, and Chuck Mateosian first aid, and Kusmierczak life saving.

Robert Mateosian presented a Tenderfoot Certificate and pin to James Barron.

A First Class Scout Certificate and pin was presented to Mike Brazel. Jim Whitsett attained the rank of Star Scout. It was also noted that Jim earned the Boy Scouts of America's "One Mile" Swim Certificate and patch at summer camp this year.

Senior Patrol Leader Kusmierczak had the honor of presenting the Life Scout Certificate and pins to Jeff Kittel.

Troop Committee Chairman Jeanne Brandon concluded the presentations by awarding Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak, who earned Scouting's highest award, the Eagle Badge, in January, 1981, with the Bronze Palm Certificate for earning an additional 5 Merit Badges.

The Court was closed with the recital of the Scout Oath.

Following which, refreshments were served to the following parents: Mr. and Mrs. James Barron, Mrs. Jeanne Brandon, Mrs. Frances Fulkerson, Mr. and Mrs. Greg Hagen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kittel, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kusmierczak, Mrs. Dianna Markovich, Mrs. Virginia Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mateosian.

Scoutmaster Robert Manzer will accompany the boys to the Cardinal-Cub baseball game on Sept. 9.

ZONING MEETING

The Granite City Board of Appeals will hold its regular meeting Wednesday, Sept. 9, to discuss a request by Kenneth Anderson, 2808 Indiana Ave., for a variance to construct an attached garage two feet from the side property line. The meeting will begin at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the city council chambers of city hall.

CHARLES BOSWORTH JR., 31, formerly of Madison, has been promoted to Illinois Bureau Chief for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Bosworth is the son of the late Charles Sr. and Martha Bosworth. He graduated from Madison High School in 1968, received a bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a double major, Journalism and English. He worked for the former Metro-East Journal for seven years, before joining the Post-Dispatch staff in 1979. Bosworth and his wife Connie (Haddock), also of Madison, have a young son Christopher C. Bosworth.

Thompson backs Ryan

Governor James R. Thompson on Monday endorsed House Speaker George Ryan of Kansas for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

"I am delighted to join the announcement," Speaker Ryan will seek the nomination, George is a personal friend, a political comrade and a governmental partner. If selected, Ryan said he will seek to play an active role in legislative liaison and economic development. Sen. Prescott Blegen also has announced he will run. Other prospects include Sen. Donald Totten, Rep. Herbert Huskey and James Nowlan.

Close Myrtle Ave. for resurfacing

Myrtle Avenue between Faith Avenue and Victory Drive will be closed for about 20 to 25 working days, beginning next week, for long needed improvements to the streets, curbs and gutters.

Steven R. Petroff, the contractor for the work, plans to begin next week and has requested that the entire street be closed during the work. The city has never before closed a street during resurfacing, but City Engineer Monroe Brewer explained Tuesday night that the residents all have alleys behind their houses and will have access, even with the street closed.

He recommended that the street be closed and the council agreed.

New curbs, gutters and a rock and oil street surface will be installed at a total cost of $65,000 by the contractor. The money has been appropriated from the city's motor fuel tax fund.

Award road contracts

The Illinois Department of Transportation has awarded road improvement contracts totaling $18.8 million for 50 projects throughout the state, including two in Madison County. Bids were submitted for the projects during the June 26 and July 31 bid lettings. One project is for maintaining the motorist aid call box system for 12 months on Interstate 55-70 and Interstate 270 in Madison and St. Clair counties. The Interstate 55-70 call box area is between the intersection of the three interstates and the Mississippi River. The contract for $48,320 was awarded to Solid State Technology, Inc., of Woburn, Mass. Also awarded was a contract to Keller Construction, Inc., of Edwardsville to construct a bridge and approaches over Sugar Creek, two miles southeast of Highland. At a cost of $269,990. Wilbur Waggoner Equipment Rental & Excavating Co. of Madison was the successful bidder on construction of a bridge with concrete pile bent abutments over the Cox Creek overflow one-fourth of a mile south of Steelville in Randolph County. The contract is for $55,585.

District Camp Fire post for Don Patrick

Donald D. Patrick, 3819 Pontoon Road, Pontoon Beach, has accepted the position of executive director with the Greater St. Louis Council of Camp Fire Inc. Announcement of his appointment was made today by Mrs. Florence T. Clark, president of the council. Camp Fire Inc., formerly Camp Fire Girls, founded in 1910, is a not-for-profit youth agency with national headquarters located in Kansas City, Mo. It is a non-sectarian organization with groups in more than 9,000 communities throughout the United States. Membership is open to boys and girls from age 6 through high school. The agency is supported by the United Way of Greater St. Louis.

DONALD PATRICK

In his new position of executive director, Patrick will be responsible for agency operations of the council, which serves the City of St. Louis, St. Charles, Jefferson and St. Louis counties in Missouri, and Madison and St. Clair counties in Illinois. The Greater St. Louis Council of Camp Fire Inc. was chartered in 1983, with offices located at 10806 Ambassador Blvd., Creve Coeur, Mo. Patrick, 33, is a Vietnam Army Veteran, and earned the U.S. Bronze Star on May 27, 1971. Between 1972 and 1975, he served with the Pontoon Beach Police Department as juvenile and public relations officer. In October of 1975, he accepted the position of director-counselor of the Coordinated Youth Service office in Pontoon Beach. He remained in that position until June, 1979. He has spent the last two years as executive secretary-treasurer for the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach. Patrick is a graduate of the University of Missouri, earning his degree in administration of human services. He also holds an associate degree from Belleville Area College. Patrick has been active in local community affairs, serving with such organizations as the Cahokia Mounds Council of Boy Scouts of America, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Granite City School District Number 9 Citizens' Advisory Council and Lions Club of Pontoon Beach. He served as chairman of the Pontoon Beach Bicentennial Committee during 1975-76. He is currently serving as lieutenant governor of Illinois Lions District 1-G, and is expected to assume the office of district governor in July, 1982.

New crime category 'feticide'

SPRINGFIELD — A bill which creates a new crime category of "feticide" that had been managed in the House by Rep. Jack D. Davis, R-Belleville, has been signed into law by Gov. James R. Thompson. Under the provisions of the bill, which was sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Randy Thomas, R-Silvis, the murder penalty could be brought against an individual who causes the death of the child being carried by the mother during an attack on the mother. The penalty for the feticide is the same as murder, with the exception that the death penalty may not be imposed. The bill provides that the fetus is one who is determined at the autopsy to have been capable, beyond reasonable doubt, of living outside the womb at the time of its death. The measure, which is effective immediately, does not apply to lawful abortions or self-defense. The act would apply if the person committing the crime either intended to kill or to do great bodily harm to the mother carrying the fetus, knew that his or her acts created a strong probability of death or great bodily harm to the mother, was attempting to commit a forcible felony against the mother, or should have known that the mother was pregnant. "The bill fills a void in our criminal code," Thompson said. AGGRAVATED BATTERY James W. Lance, 1513 Second St., Madison, was cut with a knife which made a 3 1/2-inch laceration on the inner part of his left forearm at 8:55 p.m. Wednesday in the 1400 block of Third Street in Madison. He was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. His assailant was described as a white male, about 21 years of age, wearing a tee shirt and blue jeans. No reason for the act could be determined.

SPRINGFIELD — Continued population growth is projected for northern Illinois in a revised population summary issued through the Bureau of the Budget.

The Bureau bases its projections on figures received from the U.S. Census Bureau and other governmental information. Also information is gathered from various governmental surveys. Based on the Bureau's information the major population changes will probably continue to be in the six-county area of the northeast section of the state. Continued major population upswings are projected for the area for the next 10 years.

Statewide the Bureau set Illinois' population in 1980 at 11,628,113. The 1990 figure is projected at 11,703,473. In 1970 it was at 11,134,873.

Cook County still remains the top population county in Illinois. According to the BOB figures the 1980 population was at 5,256,733, while in 1970 it was 5,504,586. The BOB, using current trends, projects the 1990 figure at 5,033,937. The next largest population county is neighboring DuPage County with a 1980 figure at 658,620. The 1970 figure was set at 493,292 and the 1990 BOB projection is 789,620.

In DeKalb County the 1980 figure was shown as 74,670, compared with 71,796 in 1970. The 1990 BOB projection is set at 80,281. In 1970 Grundy County was at 26,572, while the 1980 figure was set at 30,600 by the BOB. The 1990 projection by the BOB staff is at 34,823. Kane County has continued its growth with the 1980 figure at 278,506, compared with 251,785 in 1970. The BOB projections for 1990 population figures show Kane County at 319,029. The 1980 population figure for Kendall County was set at 37,225, compared with 26,824 in 1970. The 1990 projection is set at 47,739.

The 1980 population figure for LaSalle County was down to 109,210, from 111,497 in 1970. However, the BOB population projections show that the 1990 figure should go up to 112,641. Livingston County showed a slight increase in 1980 with 41,411 and it was 40,705 in 1970. The 1990 projection is set at 43,025. McHenry County is also keeping up its growth rate in the area of population. The 1980 population figure was set by the BOB to be at 147,826. This compares to 111,760 in 1970, and with the 1990 projection set at 177,514. Will County also continues its growth pattern in population. The BOB set the 1980 population at 324,676. In 1970 it was 250,181. The 1990 projection is set at 369,201.

By contrast in the southern part of Illinois, population growth has been increasing but not at as high a rate as the northeast section. Madison County does show a decrease. In 1980 the population figure was set by the BOB at 247,838, while in 1970 it was 251,477. The 1990 BOB projection is set at 244,820. Neighboring St. Clair County also shows decreases. In 1970 the BOB sets the population at 285,716. In 1980 it was 265,646, while the 1990 projection is 262,446. Marion County shows a 1980 population of 43,552, compared with 38,990 in 1970. The 1990 projection is set by the BOB at 50,187.

Along the Illinois-Indiana border, Crawford County shows population increases. The BOB set the 1980 population at 20,852, while the 1970 figure was 18,795. The BOB is projecting 1990 at 22,070. Lawrence County came in at 17,823 for 1980, and 17,494 for 1970. The 1990 projection is set at 18,713. Jackson County shows a 1980 figure of 81,566 and the 1970 figure at 55,087. The 1990 projection is at 63,891. In Jefferson County the 1980 population was set at 38,378 and in 1970 it was at 31,437. The 1990 projection is set at 39,361.

Fuel conservation grants recommended

The Illinois Institute of Natural Resources has recommended that 414 buildings in Illinois—managed by schools, hospitals, colleges and other public agencies—be awarded more than $2 million in federal energy conservation grants.

Included are the Madison County Nursing Home and the Granite City school district, chosen as third grant cycle recipients. Recipient agencies would add a comparable amount of their own funds for building audits and energy conservation measures. With the matching non-federal funds, the amount spent for energy conservation would exceed $14.6 million.

The grants are intended to allow institutions to pinpoint their energy-loss areas and reduce their energy costs. The state's recommendation does not guarantee that the applications will be funded by the U. S. Department of Energy. DOE will review the requests, and notices of grant awards are expected to be sent out in mid-September.

THEFT OF METER

Two 14-year-old boys were released on notices to appear in juvenile court on charges of theft for allegedly stealing a parking meter from the 1800 block of Edison Avenue at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday. Witnesses said two boys stole the meter and took it to the basement of a home in the 1700 block of State Street. Officers went to that home, talked to the father of one of the boys and the father went to the basement and found the boys dismantling the meter. The boys then were arrested and the meter and its parts were taken to the police building.

ALL IN A ROW. R. W. Harmon school buses were parked early this week waiting to take Granite City students to their first day of school, which was today. Failure of the teachers to report to work delayed the opening of school one week. The buses were used one week ago to take students to school, but turned around and returned the students home when the schools discovered there were too few teachers to justify opening the buildings.

News notes

Unemployment figures for July show that the jobless rate in Illinois came within half a percentage point of the national average, dropping to 7.5 percent, the lowest state jobless level so far in 1981. "All old-line industrial states have been hurt by the nation's economic difficulties in the past, but it appears the unemployment slump in Illinois may be easing," Governor James R. Thompson said.

+++ Governor James R. Thompson has announced the inauguration of a million-dollar advertising and public relations campaign to promote Illinois and increase investment and jobs throughout the state. The governor presented the campaign, the theme of which is "Discover the Magnificent Miles of Illinois," to more than 100 business and labor leaders at a Chicago breakfast meeting. "The failure of Illinois is our failure," Governor Thompson said. "The success of Illinois is our success. If we succeed in meeting this challenge, it will mean more revenue for businesses, more jobs for our citizens. It will mean more revenue to improve the quality of services for all Illinoisans. It will mean a better life for our families and our children."

Madison Lions invite local participation in candy drive

The kids are back from camp, the battle against crab grass has been fought, and Dad is scurrying around trying to squeeze in a last weekend of fishing. It all means summer is about over. For the Lions, it means work has just begun. The work is Candy Day, and, although it won't be held until Oct. 9, plans must be made now to be sure that the Madison Lions Club does its part, along with other clubs in the state, to meet the statewide goal of $1.2 million to help the blind, visually handicapped, deaf, and hearing impaired.

To that end, Darmond Broyles, local Candy Day underwriting chairman, is inviting businessmen, individuals, and others to participate in the Candy Day campaign by underwriting the cost of candy.

"The cost of candy is $39 for a case of 600 rolls, and every case paid for means that much more money to help the blind and deaf," he said. The club would like to have every case of candy underwritten.

Every individual, group, or business underwriting candy will receive an attractive shareholder's certificate as a thank-you. For more information, persons may contact the underwriting chairman at 876-4300.

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey in this area during the week of Sept. 14-18, to determine the extent to which people have been immunized against selected diseases, Marvin L. Postma, director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Kansas City, announced.

The survey is conducted throughout the U.S. every year to provide information on immunization against measles, influenza, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, rubella, and mumps.

These health questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly employment survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country. For example, in July the survey indicated that of the 106.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 99.0 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.0 percent, down from the 7.3 percent which prevailed during most of the January-February period.

Mounds site proposed on Heritage List

The Department of the Interior, considering a prehistoric Indian settlement in southwestern Illinois for possible nomination to the World Heritage List. The property, if nominated and listed, would be the first non-federal property added to the World Heritage List.

Known as Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site, the 1,300-acre site is recognized as the fountainhead of Mississippian culture, which flourished from 600 A.D. to 1100 A.D. Cahokia Mounds is being considered because "it exerted great influence over a wide geographic area and many different cultural groups for over 400 years. It is a unique and exceptional example of a civilization which existed for 350 years and then disappeared, and it is an outstanding example of an earthen temple mound."

Cahokia Mounds, as announced in the July 19 Federal Register, will be evaluated by a federal interagency panel. On November 1981, if approved by the panel and the secretary of the interior, a nomination will be submitted through the State Department to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. The World Heritage Committee, with representatives from 21 nations, meets annually to judge nominations.

Cahokia Mounds was recommended to the Interior Department last year by Illinois Governor James A. Thompson. The Governor said the State of Illinois, which owns and manages Cahokia Mounds, recognizes its legal obligations under the World Heritage Convention and would continue to protect and preserve Cahokia Mounds' significant cultural values.

Currently no properties are on the World Heritage List, which was established under the World Heritage Convention. The Convention has been ratified by 59 nations so far. Seven U.S. properties are on the list, including Grand Canyon, Yellowstone, Everglades, Redwood, Mesa Verde, and Wrangell-St. Elias National Parks; and Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

Thompson said the State of Illinois, which owns and manages Cahokia Mounds, recognizes its legal obligations under the World Heritage Convention and would continue to protect and preserve Cahokia Mounds' significant cultural values.

City warns realtors against pressuring council on zoning

A stern warning to local realtors that the city council will not let them dictate the course of zoning in the city was issued by Mayor Paul Schuler during Tuesday night's Granite City Council meeting.

"Special interest groups have a right to express their opinion, but a special interest group can run this city. That's what you are elected for," Schuler told the aldermen.

Many realtors and the city have been at odds since the city began preparation of a new zoning map and ordinance for the city. The realtors want all of Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road and parts of Pontoon and Johnson roads zoned completely commercial.

The city sides with residents of those streets who feel businesses are encroaching on their homes and are asking for the zoning to remain primarily residential.

Alderman Paul Fisk told the council that a resident contacted a survey and found that 82.6 percent of the buildings on Madison Avenue are residential and only 17.4 percent are commercial structures. Of the commercial structures, many were allowed to open on special use permits, which provide that the property return to residential zoning when those specific businesses close, Fisk said.

More important, he stated, is that 90.4 percent of the buildings on Grand Avenue and Iowa Street which back onto Madison Avenue lots, are residential and most of the people who start businesses in their back yards, he contended.

Fisk said he took into consideration that there is a lot of residential there and we better turn a deaf ear to the realtors," Fisk said. He also criticized a comment made by a realtor at a public hearing on the zoning ordinance that the downtown area is dying. Fisk said he has checked with downtown business people who feel the downtown is growing and improving.

He said of some realtors, "They are looking for a fast buck and don't care about the city tomorrow. Some live outside of Granite City. They call people and put pressure on you to make these areas commercial, you better turn a deaf ear," he concluded.

GC man seriously hurt after chase

Joseph E. Sampson, 22, of 4364 Highway 162, remains in serious condition today in the intensive-care unit at Firdon DeSage Hospital after the motorcycle he was driving went out of control while being pursued by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville police Tuesday.

The crash occurred after a high-speed chase through the campus with speeds, reported by the officers in pursuit, up to 60 m.p.h. Officers first saw Sampson and a rider, Michelle Hug, 18, of Edwardsville, stopped at the traffic signal at University Drive and Tower Lake Road apparently having trouble with the motorcycle at 12.3 a.m. The officers approached the couple, but Sampson fled the scene which started the chase across the campus.

An SIUE spokesman said today that Sampson suffered a broken neck and could have some brain damage. Both he and his passenger were taken to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville where Michelle Hug was treated and released. Sampson was transferred to the St. Louis hospital by helicopter.

The cycle went out of control and overturned in some weeds near Illinois 157 and Bluff Road. It was un- known whether the cycle was approaching, but six traffic charges are to be issued today to him and one to the owner of the motorcycle.

Sampson is to be ticketed with two counts of disobeying stop signs, one count of reckless driving, one count of fleeing or attempting to elude police officers, one charge of speeding 60 mph in a 25 mph-per-hour zone, and one violation of improper classification on his drivers' license. He did not have a license to drive a motorcycle.

Police were told that Reynolds was talking to a girl on the telephone and said, "Maybe you'll do something when you hear this," the gunshot followed.

Reynolds' sister rushed in and found him bleeding. She summoned an ambulance. She found a .22 caliber Gerstenberger pistol on the floor under the head of the bed near where Reynolds was lying. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was admitted with internal bleeding.

Today in serious condition today in the intensive care unit, authorities reported.

19-year-old in serious condition after shooting

Jeff Reynolds, 19, of 2571 E. 27th St., suffered a gunshot wound to his right side while in his bedroom at 7:50 a.m. Wednesday.

Watch out for the Brown Recluse and Black Widow

By RONALD CORNWELL

County Farm Adviser The Brown Recluse spider is one of two poisonous spiders found in Southern Illinois. The other spider is the Black Widow.

Black Widows usually are found outdoors in sheds, garages, rubbish piles and other areas. Only the female will bite.

She can be identified by a red "hour glass" design on its abdomen. Otherwise, she is all black.

The Brown Recluse can be found in any room of a home, usually concealed in cracks. It is chocolate brown with a dark fiddle-shaped mark behind its head.

The Brown Recluse spider is normally a timid spider and stays in dark, secluded areas of the home and other buildings.

During the late summer and fall, the spider tends to move around. This is often the time of year the spiders are found. They tend to stay out of sight the rest of the year.

Both the male and female of the Brown Recluse spider will bite. In some cases, the bite is not noticed immediately and in other cases the pain is immediate.

To control spiders around the home, use diazinon as an outside foundation spray. In the home, baseboards, cracks and door thresholds can be treated with ready-to-use sprays containing diazinon, dursban or baygon.

Rubbish piles and other areas that can harbor spiders should be cleared. Shake and inspect clothing that has been hanging in the closet for long periods of time before wearing it.

TWO ARRESTED NEAR LOCAL APARTMENT

James Michael Shumate, 25, Birchtree, Mo., was arrested at Kirkpatrick Homes at 1 a.m. Wednesday for resisting arrest and attempted theft. Lavonda Holcomb, 26, of 3201 Kirkpatrick was looked for attempted theft; pleading innocent, she was released on $1,000 bond.

Two other persons found in the vicinity of 3201 Kirkpatrick were freed after questioning. Shumate pleaded innocent and, failing to post $6,000 bond, was transferred Thursday to the Madison County jail. Ownership of a stove and refrigerator are being disputed.

Hearings on nutrition in teenage pregnancy

The U.S. ranks among the highest in the world for teenage birth rates — fourth among the developed countries. "Pregnant adolescents place both themselves and their babies' well-being in jeopardy," according to Peter P. Peters, who has announced two hearings on the topic.

He is chairman of the Illinois State Council on Nutrition. "Many of these teenage girls are in poor nutritional status when they become pregnant, as well as during pregnancy, due to weight-reducing fad diets, poor dietary habits, and lack of knowledge or concern about a proper diet. These dietary problems are known to affect pregnancy outcome."

"Higher risks of pre-eclampsia, toxemia, and anemia are just a few of the health problems associated with adolescent pregnancies, not to mention economic and social consequences."

"Pregnant teenagers also have a greater chance of having low birth weight babies, who tend to have serious childhood illnesses, birth injuries, and mental retardation."

"Low birth weight is also a major cause of infant mortality, which is a serious problem in Illinois. There are only six other states with higher infant mortality rates than Illinois," Peters said. "Because of the role nutrition plays in teenage pregnancies, the Illinois State Council on Nutrition is holding two public hearings in September.

"The objectives of the hearings are to determine the nutritional status of pregnant teens, and the accessibility and adequacy of nutrition information and programs."

The hearings are set as follows:
Tuesday, Sept. 15, Room 1818, State of Illinois Building, 160 N. LaSalle St., Chicago, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Thursday, Sept. 17, Mississippi Room, Student Union, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All Savers Certificate

Your Key To Higher Earnings
With TAX FREE INTEREST

Why Give It To The I.R.S.?

The All Savers Certificate was recently authorized by Congress as part of the President's Tax Bill. It is effective October 1, 1981. Its main feature is that it provides:

TAX FREE INTEREST

Up to $1000 federal tax exempt earnings on an individual return and up to $2000 tax free on a joint return.

ALL SAVERS ACT CHART

Tax Bracket	Tax Exempt Rate
	10.0	10.5	11.0	11.5	12.0	12.5
20%	12.50	13.12	13.75	14.37	15.00	15.62
25%	13.33	14.00	14.66	15.33	16.00	16.66
30%	14.28	15.00	15.71	16.43	17.14	17.85
35%	15.38	16.15	16.92	17.68	18.46	19.23
40%	16.66	17.50	18.33	19.15	20.00	20.83
45%	18.18	19.10	20.00	20.90	21.82	22.73
50%	20.00	21.00	22.00	23.00	24.00	25.00

These examples from the adjoining All Savers Tax Chart indicate what tax free interest means to you. Assuming a 12% rate, a couple filing a joint return would receive the following taxable equivalent rate:

TAX BRACKET	Interest Rate Required To Earn Rate Equal To Tax Exempt Rate
40%	19.16%
50%	23.00%

Rate will change monthly, but rate you receive at time you open your All Savers Certificate will be guaranteed for the first year.

The tax free rate will be 70% of the then current rate for 1 year U.S. Treasury Bills. Unlike Money Market Funds your rate is guaranteed for the full year. And unlike Money Market Funds, your money — up to $100,000 is insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

GUARANTEED RATE • FEDERALLY INSURED

If you have any time certificates or Money Markets maturing between now and October First — It will pay you to sign up now — And we'll pay you high interest — 16.5% in a repurchase agreement during the interim. Then on October First we'll transfer your funds to the Tax Free All Savers Certificate.

National Geographic to look at the atom

An unprecedented look at uranium atoms in motion, magnified 10 million times, will be featured on a National Geographic Special, "The Invisible World," on Wednesday, Sept. 9 at 8 p.m., and repeated on Thursday, Sept. 10 at 9 p.m., on KETC Channel 9.

Water crystallizing into ice. A single atom's movement within a solid piece of matter. A bullet speeding toward its target. What these events have in common is that they usually occur too fast, or are too minute to be seen unaided by the human eye. But with the help of special photographic equipment, man can surpass the limitations of his sight and perceive these and other wonders of the world around him.

"The Invisible World," offers a beautiful and absorbing look at the realm beyond man's sight. Alex Pomasanoff is producer, director, and writer of this hour-long documentary, which is hosted by E. G. Marshall and narrated by Richard Basehart.

The eye is a versatile organ, but one that affords man a surprisingly narrow window on the world. Each moment things occur that man cannot perceive because they are too small, too large, too fast, too slow or beyond the spectrum of visible light. "The Invisible World" uses an impressive array of sophisticated photographic techniques and technology to reveal many of these usually unseen events. One such technological marvel is the scanning electron microscope, under which a grain of sand becomes as rutted and remote as the moon.

Phone to report 'snow days' and other school data

The Granite City School Board decided Tuesday night to obtain an automatic telephone answering service to expand the school system's ability to communicate with the public.

A machine known as Ansafone Model 747 will be purchased for $391, and about $130 will be spent for tapes and for devices to attach the equipment to present telephone lines.

School Supt. B. J. Davis commented, "If we had this in service during the past week, we could have provided more information to the public on the opening and closing of schools and could have answered many of the questions that were raised."

Mrs. Musterman commented, "The message on snow days will be an obvious task for the answering service. There also will be an opportunity to share such positive aspects as major scheduled events and accomplishments."

"It will provide an additional mode of communication with patrons on a two-way basis."

A similar unit is being used by the Granite City Public Library in its district program.

"Our equipment will feature variable-length announcements of up to three minutes. Standard removable cassettes will permit distribution or retention of the information."

In other business, the board accepted the retirements, effective immediately, of: Beleh G. Wigger of the Namekoi School cafeteria staff and four members of the Granite City High School South cafeteria staff; Dolores Sanders, Zita Bequette, Dorothy Schardan, and Mildred Nancey.

A job description is to be developed for a custodial supervisory position.

Matt Gasparovic will transport local children to daily classes at the Greenville campus of Collinsville High School.

The board chose President Thomas Miesofsky as delegate and Secretary Donald Stucke as alternate delegate to an Illinois Association of School Boards assembly to be held in November.

Harold E. Briggs, Madison County regional superintendent, notified the board he had approved all school buildings as adequate and efficient for the conduct of classes in the 1981-82 school year.

The board authorized continued use of temporary classrooms for the federal Title I instructional program at Logan School. Architect Henry Gabriel has certified that the structure poses no safety problems.

For $5,100, the district will replace a 10-year-old machine that is employed to inspect and repair films utilized in the audio-visual program at various schools.

The new machine also will be able to clean the motion pictures. There are about 700 films, valued at $100 to $400 each, obtained over the years through the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, the Title I-B program and local funds.

About 20 to 100 films are used each day for classroom purposes. The inspection and repair program detects and remedies flaws and prevents major damage to the films, it was noted.

Luxury tax

next summer, Schuler is predicting that approximately $500,000 more will have to be levied this year than last. In part to repay the $1.2 million the city has had to borrow to keep it solvent until new taxes are received later this month.

He said the tax levy ordinance will be ready for final approval by the council tonight and probably will not exceed the $2.5 million levied last year. All of the levy figures will be the same as last year's, he said, not addressing the issue of repayments of the bonds and tax anticipation warrants. Later, however, he said to the aldermen, "I think we agreed we are going to increase the property tax, right?"

The council gave first reading to a tax levy ordinance Tuesday night which had no levy figures or totals. "Thursday evening, those figures will be in the right column, but they will be the same as last year," Schuler pledged.

The levies may or may not fully support the following amounts appropriated: general government, $370,527; pumping station, $9,300; city hall, $36,900; inspection, $98,954; humane, $43,447; city planning and zoning, $2,550; airport, $49,985; engineering department, $60,928; administration, $1,767,800; for a total general fund appropriation of $2,432,291.

Special taxes which are to be levied are to support in whole or part the following funds: general obligation bonds on storm sewers, $150,245; police department, $1,588,762; police reimbursable work, $38,000 (no levy needed); fire department, $1,042,142; public library, $445,002; street department, $863,594; street lighting, $230,000; garbage contract, $460,000; sanitation department, $27,530; maintenance sewers, $69,568; civil defense, $21,699; firemen's pension fund, $300,000; police pension fund, $300,000; safety department, $19,118; public library, $440,000, and sewage treatment plant budget (no levy required) $1,830,757.

Also in the budget is the community development budget of $1,414,881, which does not require a tax levy.

The total city budget is $7.6 million, of which 2 1/2 million will have to come from property taxes or another form of local taxation.

Commenting on the city's financial condition, Alderman Whitmer stated, "I just hope this city can keep its emergency departments operating, police, ambulance and fire."

Alderman Fisk added, "I will oppose any kind of levy which does not make the city fiscally responsible for the operation of the city."

Schuler admitted he does not know how much the tax on restaurants and taverns will produce. "I can only make a wild guess based on Peoria, which has such a tax. Guessing from that, it should take about $25,000 to $40,000 a month," he told the council.

That would depend on the sales of liquor, drinks and restaurant food in the city being between $1 million and $1.6 million annually, which would produce between $300,000 and $480,000 a year for the city treasury.

One tavern owner said he would probably have to raise the price of his drinks by five cents each to collect the tax. On a 50-cent draft beer, the tax would be one penny and the tavern owner would then profit by an additional four cents. On a $1 mixed drink, the tax would be two cents and the owner would profit by three cents a drink.

A restaurant owner said he did not know what he would do, but said it seemed unfair, because his competitors in other cities and in the county outside of the city limits would have an unfair advantage, since they could serve food and drinks two percent cheaper.

He predicted the city would have a difficult time enforcing the tax on food and drinks without hiring additional employees, contending that some owners of restaurants, taverns and package liquor stores might "cheat" on their city tax.

Schuler told the council that he does not believe additional city employees will be needed to enforce the ordinance, which makes the mayor or his appointed designates responsible for collecting the tax and for enforcing the ordinance.

It also gives the city the right to inspect the records of the businesses to determine that the proper tax is being paid and gives the mayor the authority to revoke or suspend all city licenses held by a "tax evader," as well as imposing fines between $200 and $300 for the first offense and from $300 to $500 for each subsequent offense in any 180-day period.

The ordinance on taverns, restaurants and package liquor stores does not affect grocery stores or, coin-operated automatic food dispensing machines. It excludes food or non-alcoholic items "purchased and taken from the premises of purchase in a hermetically sealed container of its manufacture or wholesaler."

The ordinance stipulates that the consumer is the person responsible for paying the tax. "The ultimate incidence of tax and liability for payment of said tax shall be borne by the person who seeks the privilege of occupying any such restaurant or establishment..." it states.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

Seith not chasing it'

By KEN WATSON

SPRINGFIELD — "I'm not chasing it."

Alex Seith was discussing the possibility that he might join the so far extremely limited field seeking the 1982 Democratic nomination for governor.

You get the impression, however, that if he detected any hard signs at all that he might have a chance for the nomination, the persistent Seith, an Aurora native, would jump in to the race with both feet. The political odds have never been such to appear in an Aurora native, would jump in to the race with both feet. The political odds have never been such to appear in an Aurora native, would jump in to the race with both feet. The political odds have never been such to appear in an Aurora native, would jump in to the race with both feet.

He noted that if a sales tax is imposed later in this fiscal year, the council could vote to end the tax on restaurants, taverns, hotels and motels.

Despite the efforts to impose additional taxation to reduce the property taxes homeowners in the city will of competition.

In 1978 Seith first spread his political wings and took on Republican Sen. Charles W. Dixon, who had established a reputation as a winner by unseating formidable Democrat Eugene McCarthy in 1966 and then winning re-election by a million-plus landslide in 1972.

Seith surprised almost everybody by making a whale of a fight of it, and even looked like a possible winner with a couple of weeks to go.

But some thought he overdid it in attacking Percy, and criticism of his campaign tactics began to appear in the state press. He also ran into trouble from a questionable appointment to a zoning job in the Chicago area.

Meanwhile, Republicans rallied behind the beleaguered Percy, and in the end he won by a fairly comfortable margin. But Seith had been bitten by the political bug, and the effects of such bites are known to linger for years.

So it was that two years later Seith threw his hat into the ring as Illinois Democrats chose a successor to Sen. Adlai Stevenson, who had decided not to seek re-election. Seith was not deterred by the fact that

Secretary of State Alan Dixon was already in the field and that, after a long string of election victories at various levels of government, Dixon was considered about as unbeatable as Notre Dame at South Bend.

The indomitable Alex let his hair grow a little longer, began wearing conservative suits, avoided public mention of his jogging, and stressed that his recognized knowledge and experience in foreign affairs made him an ideal man for the Senate.

Also shelved from the 1978 campaign was his slogan and slug campaign style in favor of a more gentlemanly and diplomatic approach. Seith did not make nearly as many people angry as he had two years previously, but neither did he, relatively speaking, attract much more in the way of votes.

Although finishing second in a five-candidate field, Seith received only 190,339 votes to 671,146 for the affable Alan, who to no one's surprise ran away with the nomination.

Now Seith is pondering a third uphill campaign in less than four years and one is inclined to wonder why in the world he is doing it. Democratic slatemakers could not be expected to look very favorably on a two-time loser, and winning the nomination in a primary contest would be a long shot at best. The odds would be even longer in any fall campaign against Republican Gov. James R. Thompson, considered by foes as well as friends as a tough guy to beat.

But there are some factors that could influence Seith to re-enter the political wars. The first is that there are no clear signs that a stronger Democratic challenger to Thompson is available. Stevenson can probably have the nomination on a platter if he decides to run, and this writer believes that he will. But nobody, perhaps not even Stevenson himself, knows for sure right now.

Residents oppose higher tax levy

Granite City residents do not want more taxes. That was the message made clear by persons attending a public hearing on a city proposal to increase its property tax more than five percent. The hearing preceded Tuesday night's regular city council meeting.

Approximately six of the 18 persons present spoke, all asking the city to pass only the same tax levy it passed last year, which raised approximately $2.5 million from property taxes.

The city has considered a levy (the amount to be raised through property tax) of up to $3 million, which would have increased taxes significantly during tax collections next summer.

The levy is to be passed during a special meeting of the council at 7 tonight in the township hall. Precise figures on the levy were not available during the recent meeting Tuesday night, but Mayor Schuler pledged to try and hold the levy to $2.5 million.

After the public hearing, which is required under a new state law if any levy is to rise more than five percent per year, Mayor Schuler told the council that it was "quite apparent at the hearing that all present were opposed to any increase in property tax."

He said that if some new form of taxation is proposed and the city levies $2.5 million again, the city will be at least $400,000 in debt by the end of the fiscal year next April 30.

"We can take a chance and hope for authorization to pass a sales tax, I still think, in my opinion, by the time that cleared through the courts and we receive enabling legislation (to have the state collect the tax and distribute it), we will be almost out of the fiscal year. It would be next March or April, at least," the mayor predicted.

He then introduced ordinances imposing taxes on sales at restaurants, liquor stores, taverns and motels in the city. A separate story on these taxes appears on today's front page.

Alderman Sam Whitmer

3 injured in disturbance

No arrests have been made in connection with a disturbance at an apartment building at 2015 Washington Avenue in which three persons were injured at 11:55 a.m. Monday.

Injured in the incident were Loretta Hardester, apartment 7, and Horace Stayton, apartment 14, both of that address, and Dave Cornett of Alton.

Detectives are investigating conflicting reports of the incident but said that Mrs. Hardester and one man allege that they were struck with a bicycle tire rim and the other man alleges a lawn chair was thrown at him and hit him. Stayton's glasses were broken in half.

When police arrived, all three were bleeding. They were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and then released, pending additional investigation.

ARRESTED AT TAVERN Corine Ann Converse, 44, of 2015 Washington Ave. was charged with disorderly conduct at 4:20 p.m. Saturday for allegedly fighting and throwing items in Ken's Lounge, 1537 Twentieth St.

NOT FOR LONG. Children at Frather Junior High file out of a school bus last Thursday morning for the start of the new school year, but because of the dispute between the teachers and school district the students only stayed at the school until the buses returned about an hour later to take them back home.

Jail penalty toughened by new bill

SPRINGFIELD — Individuals convicted of residential burglary could end up spending more time in jail after next Jan. 1.

Gov. James R. Thompson has inked into law a bill which toughens the penalty from a Class 2 felony, which carries a three-year to seven-year prison term, to a Class 1 felony, which calls for four years to 15 years in prison. The crime would also be non-probationable.

Burglars should think twice about burglarizing a home now, knowing they could go to prison for twice the length of time that the state law currently calls for," Thompson said in announcing his signing the measure into law.

At the same time, Thompson announced he signed into law three measures dealing with abortions.

The three bills would provide:

- That a person who performs an abortion or attempts to perform one on a woman who is not pregnant is liable for three times the proven damages in a civil action.
- That persons who perform an abortion procedure "willfully and wantonly" upon a woman who is not pregnant will automatically have their licenses revoked, their names removed from the public aid roles and will be guilty of a Class 2 felony.
- That no spouse or parent of a minor child will be obligated to pay for the abortion of that spouse or minor child if they did not give prior consent for the abortion. The bill makes an exception in the instance where the doctor performing the abortion certifies that the abortion is necessary to preserve the woman or child's life.

The first two bills are effective immediately, while the third one does not go into effect until Jan. 1, 1982.

Eagle Stamp values dropped 16 percent

The value of Eagle Stamps dropped 16 percent Sunday as a devaluation was implemented by the Eagle Stamp Co.

Famous-Barr Co. and other merchants offering the stamps formerly redeemed them at a value of two percent of the goods purchased. Now, that value has been reduced to 1.67 percent.

Until Monday afternoon, 1,500 Eagle Stamps were redeemed for $3 worth of merchandise at Famous Barr or other participating merchants. Now, it takes 2,400 stamps to get $4 worth of merchandise.

Cash redemptions also decreased with the devaluation of the Eagle Stamps. Last week, 1,500 Eagle Stamps would bring $2.70 in cash. Now it takes 2,400 stamps to get $3.60 in cash.

In addition, there will not be any more "Eagle 1" stamps issued, which represented 10 cent purchases. Instead, customers making purchases for less than whole dollars may save their receipts from a store and combine them for whole dollar stamps. A spokesman for Eagle Stamps said that a lot of customers did not like past the 10-cent stamps into books.

He noted that National Food Stores dropped Eagle Stamps in January after 26 years in the program, but that the number of other merchants issuing the stamps has been steady during the last few years.

ASSAULT IS CHARGED

Dewayne John Meyers, 24, of 19th and State streets, Apt. 101, was charged with aggravated assault Tuesday for allegedly displaying a knife with a locking four-inch blade, pointing it at a 9-year-old girl in the 2700 block of West 22nd Street and then calling her an obscene name at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday. She screamed and her mother ran outside and saw a young man opening and closing his knife several times before he rode away on a bicycle. Police located the block in the 2700 block of Harding Avenue, but had to chase it to the 2200 block of West 22nd Street, where Meyers was arrested. Officers alleged that he was swaying and appeared to be on medication.

Reagan's economic recovery plan

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — President Reagan's plan for economic recovery is certain to be a key issue in Gov. James B. Thompson's re-election campaign. Regardless of who the Democrats nominate for governor, as Thompson campaigns for an unprecedented third consecutive term he will be forced to defend Reagan's economic policies. Although the tax cuts enacted by Congress this month are extremely popular, Thompson must deal directly with the human services reductions in the federal budget.

The impact of the Reagan cuts on state government was brought into sharper focus as a result of a hearing sponsored by the state Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation. The lead-off witness at the hearing, Jule Sugarman, a Washington expert on social services, established a grim tone. Asked by legislators to explain how state government is to provide the services now made possible by federal dollars Sugarman bluntly replied: "You're in trouble."

Further, Sugarman, who has researched the issue for the National Conference on Social Welfare, expects the situation to deteriorate for state governments in the latter years of the Reagan administration. He predicts Reagan will attempt to have the federal government withdraw entirely from income maintenance programs. Sugarman's evaluation contrasts sharply with the opinions expressed by Thompson and his budget director, Robert Mandeville. Thompson supports the president's plan and he says the cuts in services are not likely to be as severe as many people believe. And Mandeville says after one year of belt tightening federal funding will allow for slow growth in programs in future years.

Tom Berkshire, policy advisor to the governor, explained Thompson's position at the hearing. The governor, he said, supports the switch from categorical grants to block grants because it will give Illinois the opportunity to meet state needs.

Productivity, Berkshire said, is the key to whether services will have to be cut. He used the phrase "creative management" to explain how Thompson intends to provide the same services with a smaller amount of money.

Virtually everyone agrees there is a trade-off between government programs — the only disagreement centers on the extent of it. Although the president began with the promise that his switch to block grants could save 25 percent in administrative costs, Sugarman said, the federal General Accounting Office has since downgraded that amount to 5 percent.

The switch to block grants, however, will produce 25 percent fewer dollars for state governments to meet the needs of social services.

Sugarman says the business community completely resists the suggestion that it pick up the difference. The religious community will attempt to do some of the services, he says, but overall its increased role will be minimal.

In Sugarman's view, that leaves state government to provide some of the services. To deliver those services, he suggests, tax increases will be necessary. And, he points out, that is exactly what Reagan suggested in a speech to the National Conference of State Legislatures.

Those states which want to maintain services formerly delivered by the federal government may want to raise taxes, Reagan said. They will have the ability to do so, in his opinion, because of the federal tax cuts.

David R. Connole Alpine Village."

On a motion by Second Ward Alderman Ida Dant and seconded by Second Ward Alderman William Gushleff, the council concurred unanimously on a roll call vote.

Construction is estimated to begin within the next two weeks.

David Rickart Connole was born in Madison, Ill., at 1674 Fourth St., on Sept. 8, 1912.

His Naval career was ended when the submarine USS Trigger, which he was commanding, was overdue from a war patrol in the vicinity of Nansai Shoto, Asiatic area, on April 21, 1945, and was presumed lost.

After graduation from Madison High School, he received an appointment to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, in 1932, and graduating in June, 1936, he was commissioned as an Ensign.

After graduation, he served on cruisers until 1939. The next six months he was under instruction in submarines at the Submarine Base, New London, Conn.

From December, 1939, to August, 1943, he had duty in the submarine USS Pompano. That vessel participated in Naval actions during the early part of the War in the Pacific, including the battle of Midway.

When detached from the Pompano in August 1943, Commander Connole was given command of the USS Cuttlefish.

He next reported to the Submarine Force, Pacific Fleet, in December, 1944, and after one war patrol in the USS Sennet, he assumed command of the Trigger in February, 1945.

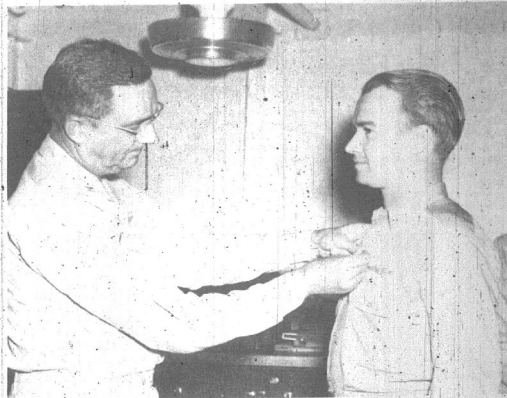

Commander Connole was awarded the Silver Star Medal, the Bronze Star Medal and Presidential Unit Citation which Trigger earned for three war patrols.

He is survived by his wife, Vida, who is married to Admiral Roy S. Benson of Arnold, Maryland; a son, Richard Alan Connole of Boston, who is Director of Finance and Treasurer of Computer Identics Corp. in Westwood, Mass.; two grandsons, David Reese Connole, 11, and Daren Rickart Connole, 9, of Boston; a brother, Paul Henry Connole of Fairview Heights.

His parents were the late Judge Henry Connole and Mrs. Mary Connole of Madison.

The USS Connole (FF1066) bears the name of Commander David R. Connole, whose naval career ended when the submarine USS Trigger, which he was commanding, was overdue from a war patrol off the coast of Japan, on April 21, 1945.

The keel of the USS Connole was laid March 23, 1967.

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER David R. Connole, USN, right, receives the Silver Star Medal during World War II from Capt. C. W. Syver, commander U.S. Submarine Force, Pacific Fleet. Subordinate commandant WWII, in a ceremony at an undisclosed Pacific base. The citation recalled that Lieut. Comdr. Connole was diving officer of a submarine "during three successful and aggressive war patrols which resulted in the sinking of an important amount of enemy shipping," and commended him for "calm and capable performance of duty under extremely adverse conditions."

Double-celling seen in half state's prisons

By JOAN MURARO

SPRINGFIELD — A little more than half of the 12,398 inmates in Illinois' 13 adult prisons are housed singly. These latter, Howell said, would include those in segregation units, where inmates are held either because they are being restricted because of offenses committed inside the walls, or at their own request for protection from other inmates.

Six percent of the inmate population are housed in dormitory-type settings, he said, which can range from three or half a dozen men in a room; to "50 or 60" in large dormitories such as those at Joliet. In those cases, he said, the quarters were designed initially for such multiple occupancy.

Total capacity of the 13 adult facilities is 12,445, the department says. Nic Howell, information officer for the Corrections Department, said 51 percent of the adult inmate population, as of June 12, were double-celled, with 37 percent housed singly. These latter, Howell said, would include those in segregation units, where inmates are held either because they are being restricted because of offenses committed inside the walls, or at their own request for protection from other inmates.

Six percent of the inmate population are housed in dormitory-type settings, he said, which can range from three or half a dozen men in a room; to "50 or 60" in large dormitories such as those at Joliet. In those cases, he said, the quarters were designed initially for such multiple occupancy.

Another 8 percent of adult inmates, Howell said, are in honor dorms, either in adult prisons or the department's scattered work camps. Howell said he is not permitted to say what the population is at any given prison, because of pending lawsuits involving the department now before the federal court at Danville. He said the department's legal staff had instructed him not to respond to questions about populations at individual institutions.

Total figures, however, show that the prison population in the state was up by 1,150 over the same period one year ago, with 219 new inmates coming into the system in the week of June 6 to June 12. That figure, he said, "is about average — we're running about 200 a week."

Based on current admissions figures, the department has projected that by January 1985, the population will be 16,420, or about 4,000 more than the total number of beds which will be available when all facilities, including some now under construction, are ready for use. "The big problem," he said, "is if we want to build a new prison, we have to go to the governor, then we go to the Legislature for approval and for the money, then we have to find and acquire a site, and then we can start to build. It takes at least two years before you can get a prison to the point of being able to start accepting residents. It takes four years to get it completely operational."

Recently, Howell said, the department gave Gov. James Thompson a list of "20 alternatives" for either constructing new facilities or converting existing sites.

Help cut cancer—quit smoking

By PROF. F. HENRY FISCHING
SUE School of Science & Technology

Cancer is a dreadful disease. Most of us have lost a friend or relative to cancer. About 800,000 new cancer cases are diagnosed each year in the United States. Imagine that a single substance could be found that was responsible for 30 percent of these cancers.

That would relieve one quarter of a million persons, 250,000 individuals, from the ravages of cancer each year. About one-third of our cancer problems would be solved at a single stroke.

The regulatory agencies are very quick to act on any type of suspected cancer-causing material. Cigarettes, hair dyes, and the red food dye were banned because they had very slight cancer promoting properties. Recently, a study by the U.S. Congress' Office of Technology Assessment found that one substance was responsible for 30 percent of all the cancer in the United States.

A minority of the adult population partake of this substance primarily for "entertainment." This substance has no known beneficial uses. Yet the regulatory agencies have done nothing to ban this menace. Why?

The chief reason is that several years ago Congress decided not to intervene. The result is that the cancers, the suffering, and the deaths continue. The American Cancer Society estimates that more than 340,000 persons die prematurely each year in the United States from the use of this single substance. What can possibly justify keeping this incredibly harmful item on the market?

The substance is tobacco and specifically its use in cigarettes. There are three main reasons why no decisive action has been taken against this deadly scourge: addiction, money, and personal freedom. None of these are a valid justification for allowing almost 1,000 persons to die each day.

Addiction - A confirmed smoker suffers from a compelling addiction. To quit smoking is not easy, because the withdrawal is so painful. But most important, smokers vehemently resist any restrictions on smoking.

Money - The tobacco industry is a lucrative business grossing about $18 billion in 1979. More than $16 billion was spent on cigarettes.

alone. In order to maintain their business, a great deal of political influence is exerted by the tobacco industry, especially in the tobacco growing states. Several years ago, I heard a U.S. senator make the incredible statement, "We must protect the tobacco industry, otherwise we would be jeopardizing $100,000 tobacco farmers' livelihood." In order to keep each tobacco farmer in business, more than three people must die each year. That is totally unjustifiable by any stretch of the imagination.

Personal Freedom - In the United States, we hesitate to limit individual freedoms. However, in the case of smoking, this personal freedom concept is badly distorted. Smoking is generally not a personal undertaking. (Pardon the pun.)

When one person smokes, toxic materials are put into the air. Anyone in the vicinity must now breathe this poisoned air. Cigarette smoke contains: carbon monoxide, hydrogen cyanide (used in lethal gas chambers), alpha-benzopyrene (a potent cancer-causing agent) and a host of other unwholesome compounds. Isaac Asimov summarized it neatly, "Your freedom to smoke ends where my lungs begin." A smoker has no right to damage other people's health. Anyone smoking in public is violating the right to breathe clean air for everyone nearby.

Our society, that considers itself rational and scientific, tolerates this fantastic toll of human life, 340,000 people every year. Instead, our society should insist on eliminating this menace to our collective health.

Smoking should be considered an unacceptable social practice because it really is. Think very carefully about this peculiar smoking situation and try to figure out how you can help bring about the end of this avoidable slaughter.

CRASH INJURES TWO

A collision during rain at 2:35 p.m. Thursday injured a motorist, Richard York, 26, Wood River, southbound on Madison Avenue at 27th Street, and Evelyn Rossington, of St. Paul, a passenger in the eastbound car of Kessler-Esington of the St. Paul address.

EOC to recycle oil

Beginning Tuesday, Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission began accepting used motor oil for recycling.

The used oil should be delivered to the EOC weatherization office at 225 Wilson St., Alton, in clean milk jugs or other suitable containers. The oil should not be mixed with water or other liquids.

MCEOC began saving its own used oil for recycling shortly after starting its own vehicle maintenance program. According to information provided by the Illinois Institute of National Resources it takes only about half as much energy to clean used oil as it takes to refine an equal amount of new oil.

Also, oil contains many hazardous contaminants which when dumped into storm sewers, in the garbage, or on the ground, can find their way into the water supply.

Currently, Illinois private vehicle owners throw away more than 20,000,000 gallons of crankcase oil which could be recycled over and over again.

The oil recycling center will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. except holidays.

For further information persons may contact Debbie Groteka at the EOC administrative office, 466-0900 or Mary Damron at the oil recycling site, 462-8852.

Woman hurt at 29th-Madison

Marjorie H. Ferris, 50, of 1638 Delmar Ave. received head and neck injuries in a traffic mishap at 1:10 p.m. Saturday.

After X-rays at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was taken by ambulance, she was transferred to Christian North hospital.

Northbound on Madison Avenue, she had halted to turn left onto 29th Street. There was damage to the rear of her auto and the front of the northbound truck of Troy Glasgow, 60, of 1608 Ferguson Ave. who was charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid the collision.

Colossians 3:16 "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly."

God's Word, the Holy Bible, will enrich your life. God and His Word are one and the same. The more you read His Word, the more you will know Him.

Deciding to read the entire Bible can amount to an overwhelming task. Concentrate on one chapter or one verse and read it every day for an entire week. Hide it in your heart. Let His Word dwell in you richly.

Remember, that with God it is always quality and not quantity that pleases Him. Take a little of the Bible, learn it well, and you will please God.

Do It Today.

William Hoehne and Diane Moss

Hoehne-Moss

The engagement of Miss Diane M. Moss, daughter of Russell R. Moss, 2145 Johnson Road, and the late Genevieve M. Moss, and William E. Hoehne, 1654 Kew Gardens, Florissant, Mo., is being announced by the bride-elect's father.

Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Hoehne, reside at Rural Route Two, Hillsboro, Mo. A graduate of South High School, Miss Moss is presently employed as a secretary at the Bank of St. Louis.

Her fiancé was graduated from Berkeley High School in 1970 and from the University of Missouri in 1975. He currently is working at McDonnell Douglas Corp.

The engaged couple are planning to be married on Oct. 29 at Zion Lutheran Church in Ferguson, Mo.

REV. AND MRS. JERRY GRANT of Edwardsville, former residents, will celebrate their silver anniversary on Sept. 12. The social event will be held at the First General Baptist Church in Wood River.

Couple to mark 25th year

The Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Grant, 626 Voge Ave., Edwardsville, will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary at a reception to be held at the First General Baptist Church, 1332 Milford St., Wood River.

Hosting the social event on Saturday, Sept. 12, will be the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Grant of Wood River and David and Donna who are still at home.

Guests will be received by the couple from 2 to 5 p.m.

The Rev. Grant and his wife, the former Iva Mae

Williams, were married on Sept. 6, 1956, at Mount Zion General Baptist Church, Granite City, by the Rev. Truman Collins. They resided here for many years prior to moving to Edwardsville.

Rev. Grant is formerly of Zalma, Mo., and Mrs. Grant was born in Granite City. They also have one grandchild.

According to the hosts, all friends and relatives are invited to attend and they request gifts be omitted.

Marriage licenses issued

Rawleigh D. Ames Jr. and Anita I. Harmon, Mark W. Breeze and Lisa A. Trawick, Randy L. Brown and Tina M. Graham, Richard A. Moussette and Sherry L. Moussette, Gregory A. Wolf and Mary Ellen DeCourcy, all of Granite City.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE ARE EARNING MONEY IN THEIR SPARE TIME AS INCOME TAX PREPARERS

H. & R. Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, is offering a basic income tax course starting September 8th with morning and evening classes available.

During the 12 week course, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block personnel will teach current laws, theory, and application as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom lecture on each subject and practice problems at every level. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging. Anyone may enroll. There are no restrictions of qualifications. Courses are ideally suited for housewives, retired persons, teachers or persons wanting to increase their tax knowledge. Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H. & R. Block.

The modest course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the school. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course. The course is licensed by the Illinois Board of Education.

Registration forms and brochures for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting the H. & R. Block office at 634 Wood River Ave., Wood River, IL 62095, telephone 254-5986.

MR. AND MRS. CLIFFORD CANNER, 643 Lincoln Ave., Venice, will celebrate their 58th wedding anniversary on Sept. 16. They are lifelong residents of Venice and have been active in church and civic affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Canner to mark anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Canner, 643 Lincoln Ave., Venice, are lifelong residents of Venice, and will celebrate their 58th wedding anniversary on Sept. 16.

Mr. Canner and his wife, Elsie, were united in marriage on Sept. 16, 1923 in ceremonies conducted at the Venice United Methodist Church.

Prior to his retirement, Mr. Canner owned and operated a grocery business in Venice for 27 years. He is a 66-year member of the Venice Methodist Church, and also belongs to the Venice Senior Citizen Club, Odd Fellows and Protestant Welfare Association. He also is a former member of the Venice School Board.

Mrs. Canner also is a member of the church and the Senior Citizen Club in Venice.

Dewey Ave. Methodist fall bazaar Sept. 12

Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, 32nd Street and Dewey Avenue, has finalized plans for its annual fall bazaar to be held on Sept. 12, according to chairman, Karer Hecht and Cheryl Hutchison.

The chairman added that plans for the fund raising project, which is open to the public, will include a country kitchen featuring special homemade desserts including cakes, pies, breads and canned goods.

A popcorn stand will be under the supervision of the youth of the church.

This year there also will be a barbecue stand with Larry Hutchison and Dennis Hecht in charge. Dinner menus will have barbecue chicken or porksteak-platter for $2.50 and hamburger or hot dog platter for $1.50.

Serving time for the bazaar will be from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 12, and carryovers will be available.

An invitation to former pastors, church friends and the public is extended by the Rev. Ray Kelley and the planning committee.

Mrs. Hecht and Mrs. Hutchison requests all members are to bring handcraft, Christmas, macramé, crochet, ceramics and miscellaneous articles for sale. Arrangements to the church as soon as possible in preparation for the annual event.

Ashleigh Siegfried in Memphis contest

Ashleigh Siegfried, 5-year old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Zahm of Madison, was selected as first alternate in the 6-year old an under category of the Mid South Fair.

The contest, which is known to be the largest youth talent competition in the country, was held in Memphis, Tenn.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James (Cindy) Siegfried, she performed the "Cot Pin Ball," a song and dance routine which was made famous by Shirley Temple.

Historical Society opens membership drive here

Old Six Mile Historical Society will begin a full activity program with its first meeting of the season set for Monday, Sept. 14, at 7:30 p.m. at Tri-Mor Bowl, 3701 Nameoki Road.

This initial session will include discussion and planning for a membership drive to be launched at meeting. Persons joining the society before May 31 will become charter members, according to the officers.

Membership dues will provide the funds that is needed for normal operating costs such as installing historical markers. Categories of membership are, friends of the museum $250, patrons $100, business or organizations $25, family plan $15, personal or individual $10, senior citizens $6 and students (voluntarily) $6 or non-voting students $4.

Since the primary project is to find and restore a building to be used as a museum, the society needs area residents assistance in contributing revenue and helping to promote fund raising projects, the president Ron Coleman explained.

Waldo Frohardt will be the featured speaker at the Sept. 14 meeting and will talk about his father, Louis Frohardt who came to Granite City in 1884 as the first teacher and superintendent of schools.

The president added, all interested persons are invited to attend and any organization who wants more information relating to the society are advised to call Coleman or Mrs. Georgia Engelle.

Old Six Mile Historical Society was organized by a small group of people whose purpose is to promote and maintain a museum of local history, encourage historical research in the area and preserve records and items of historical interest.

One of the first functions will be the permanent marking of the Old Six Mile historic site. The hotel was a stage coach stop built on the national road in 1832. A post office was established here in 1857. This property was purchased by the Edmond Wilkinson family in 1936 and was restored in 1969, Coleman said.

After receiving assistance from the State Historical Society, a committee was formed to draft a constitution. Officers were elected in May and by June 30 the membership had grown to 100 people, the president added.

He said the society serves the same geographical area as the Old Six Mile when Madison County was organized in 1812. This includes Chouteau, Granite City, Nameoki and Venice Townships.

The membership committee is making every effort to draw members from throughout the area so that they will have a better understanding of its development and the people who settled here, Coleman noted.

First child for Wayne Bidstrup

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bidstrup, of Centuria, became the parents of their first child, a daughter, born Aug. 15 at the University of Missouri Medical Center at Columbia.

The mother will be remembered as the former Deborah Martin of Granite City.

The couple has named the infant Tracie Sue. She weighed four pounds, two ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Martin of Granite City are the maternal grandparents. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bidstrup, reside in Centuria.

Amvet Day was celebrated during the weekend at Amvet Post 51 with over 100 members and guests attending.

Special guests were Norman Bess, Amvet Department of Illinois Executive Director, Jim King, President of Department of Illinois Service Foundation, Glenda Brockman, Fifth Division President, Department of Illinois Americanism, and Robert Stevens, city clerk of Granite City, and his wife, Mrs. Valerie Stevens.

Activities enjoyed during the day included sack races, three leg races, yard darts, horseshoes and watermelon eating contest. Games were played with categories for adults and children with several prizes awarded to the winners.

A special program was held as Mrs. Valerie Stevens was presented with a framed memento that she her husband secured at the 204th Flag Day Celebration she attended in Philadelphia, Pa. She said the memento was a great honor.

The commander said it is quite an accomplishment to have a first and second prize awarded to the State of Illinois in Americanism with 52 state competing for the honor. He added that the local auxiliary has a membership of 30 members and some of the other groups who competed have over 100 registered members.

The group sang a song followed by a business discussion under the leadership of Mina Duggins, president.

Readings were by Naomi Ronney, Florence Paul and Nina Payne with special songs performed by Amerik Kachigian, Alice Hoffman and Mildred Garin.

Cleaning air at GC Steel costly

Housewives sweeping up dust with a vacuum cleaner are familiar with the principle that cleans the air at Granite City Steel's Sinter Plant.

The major differences are in the size of the operation and in the cost.

The household vacuum cleaner holds just one paper bag that costs about 55 cents—or 30 cents if you find it on sale. Granite City Steel's Sinter Plant baghouse uses 1,176 much bigger polyester bags that cost some $13.50 apiece, or a total of $13,524 for bags for the entire operation.

When the GCS baghouse went into operation last November, it had cost approximately $2 million to build, and it has been working quite effectively since its startup. GCS Environmental Control vice president Dr. John Mandia says, "We're extremely

Small Business Council proposed

A meeting to discuss formation of an Illinois Area Small Business Council under the auspices of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association has been called by the RCGA for noon Tuesday, Sept. 15, at the Collingville Holiday Inn, 1-55 and Illinois 157.

The aim of the Council would be to provide a voice for small business in this metropolitan area and to provide for an exchange of ideas and views among RCGA members.

To be discussed at the first meeting is the possibility of sending a delegation of Southwestern Illinois small business owner-operators to Springfield in October for a statewide small business conference.

Small business members of the RCGA have organized area councils in the western and southern parts of the St. Louis metropolitan region. The Illinois Area Council would be the third such group.

Many government agencies at the state and national levels are paying much more attention to small business these days," commented James M. O'Flynn, RCGA president.

"Some have even said the 1980s will be the decade of small business. 'The importance of the business entrepreneur is coming to be recognized in the economy even as numerous pressures mount against small firms. 'We want the Illinois Area Council to be a significant force for promoting the interests of small business.'" displayed by maintenance supervisor Don Scheyer. The baghouse requires 1,176 bags at one time—or more than $13,000 worth of the polyester bags.

Plan for phase-out of federal bus funds

The first meeting of the Bi-State Development Agency's Long Range Planning Committee was held last week. Its purpose is to develop a plan of action to cope with funding problems expected as federal operating subsidies decline, and transit operating costs increase.

Ground work for future committee sessions was laid at this meeting. Committee Chairman J. Jaffe presented a budget projection which showed that as federal operating subsidies to Bi-State Transit decline from this year's $11 million to zero in fiscal year 1985, the transit system's revenue imbalance could grow from $32,000 this year to $55 million in 1985.

By 1985, the deficit may reach $48 million, Jaffe estimated. "We're in a relatively good position right now compared to many large transit systems in this country. 'We've got a lot of good things going. We're not in debt. New buses, already paid for, are arriving every day as part of the 171-bus purchase. We're building two new bus maintenance and storage garages which are also fully funded."

When we move into our headquarters building in Laclede's Landing, we'll save money through consolidation. 'But while we may be in pretty good shape now, the elimination of federal funding will mean that we, along with all other public transportation agencies in the country, are facing tough times ahead. 'The magnitude of the problem is so great that it dictates immediate action, rather than waiting until the problem is acute."

"To start that process, the committee has proposed a number of potential personnel reductions, which it has asked the executive director and the agency's three general managers to review and respond to with a consensus position. 'In addition, the general manager of transit has been asked to detail transit budget reduction opportunities that were brought to the attention of the Board of commissioners during earlier budget review sessions."

The next long-range planning meeting is tentatively scheduled for the week of Sept. 7. At that meeting, according to Jaffe, "representatives of Bi-State's various funding sources will be invited to sit with the committee and bear responses to the proposed reductions by Bi-State management and others who may wish to make suggestions."

"By planning ahead—and doing now those things that must be done to assure financial survival later—we, will achieve that outcome."

Madison cuts tax levy; rate also is dropped

The Madison City Council passed the 1981 tax levy at its meeting Tuesday night.

Based on the 1980 assessed valuation of $12 million, the 1981 tax rate is expected to be $1.24 per $100 assessed valuation.

This is a reduction from the actual 1980 tax rate of $2.04 per $100.

No public hearing was held because the tax levy was reduced.

The 1980 actual levy income was $246,050 and the 1981 estimated levy will be $148,800.

Dufay, a Madison resident, left his place of business without concern of his own safety, according to Chief of Police Donald L. Bridick, and located the suspect with his helicopter.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk asked the council to allow him and the attorneys to meet with neighboring cities and wage an aggressive fight against "constant utility raises in rates."

The city received notification that the Illinois American Water Company has proposed a general increase in water rates.

A hearing is scheduled at the Illinois Commerce Commission offices in Springfield at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 16.

The council unanimously approved the mayor's request and urged a vigorous fight against the proposed rate increase.

The council approved the appointment of members of the Madison Volunteer Fire Department at the request of Eldon Rhoads, fire chief.

Appointed were: Charles Voski, assistant chief; Mike Masek, captain; Robert Robins, lieutenant. Firemen appointed were: Economy, Vasil Gravelle, William Hlava, Robert Bosworth, Otis Hollenbeck, Joseph Kaleta, Richard Niehaus Jr., Danny Jones and Mike Skoklo.

Cadets are: David Moonshine, Steve Skoklo, Jeff Niehaus, David Fook and Jim Hillmer. Hardy Bryan was appointed the official fire department photographer.

Chief Rhoads was also given permission to arrange a meeting with the city finance committee and officials of Nameoki Township concerning the non-payment of fire calls in Nameoki Township.

At the request of Alderman Gushueff the council approved and Mayor Sasyk signed a proclamation declaring Friday, Oct. 9 as Lions Candy Day in Madison.

It was noted by Gushueff that statewide the Lions Clubs hope to raise $1.2 million to help the blind, visually handicapped, deaf, and hearing impaired.

Assistant City Attorney Michael Bilbrey requested that any alderman having structures in their ward that need to be condemned to let John Dutko, building inspector, or Curtis King, assistant building inspector, know as soon as possible.

Bilbrey said he was working on a list for condemnation proceedings and wanted it to be as complete as possible.

Third Ward Alderman Thomas Gordon stated that in his ward there was a continuing water problem that he felt was related to the sewers.

He made a motion that the city advertise for bids to lease or purchase equipment to fix the sewer problem.

The motion carried with a second by Third Ward Alderman Elmer Smith. Mayor Sasyk then called attention to the fact that Explorer Post 104 would soon be starting their 15th year of operation.

Sasyk said, "Over the years there have been many fine young men come out of this post. In fact our next city attorney Mike Bilbrey, is a past president."

"The Explorers who are sponsored by the police club, have produced several local police. We have trained some for the county and several are in private security work."

"The Post we have here in Madison is without a doubt one of the most outstanding youth organizations in the country, and has brought much favorable publicity and recognition to our city and our police."

"I think we owe a lot to Mick Strange and the people who help him with the Explorers, and wish them on the beginning of their 15th year."

Demos plan John Kennedy dinner at SIUE Oct. 25

The Executive Committee of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee has announced that the annual John F. Kennedy Memorial Dinner will be held on the evening of Oct. 25 in the Meridian Ballroom at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Cocktails will be served beginning at 6 p.m. with the dinner to follow at 7 p.m. The Joey James Orchestra will again furnish entertainment.

Featured speakers will be announced later after final arrangements have been made for the program.

Tickets will again be $25 each with tables of eight for $200. Reservations may be made by contacting the County Chairman or the secretary (877-2345), 1506 Johnson Road, Granite City.

LIFE UNLIMITED, a professionally trained team under recording contract with Zondervan Singerspiration music, will present a special program at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., Sunday, Sept. 6, at 7 p.m. Eight vocalists and two technicians make up the traveling team. Each person is chosen from nationwide auditions and gives one or more years to this ministry. They have recorded over 20 albums and are under the leadership of Steve Simni and Kathy Burnett, a versatile husband and wife team. Kathy is the lead singer and her husband serves as managing director.

More jobs in offices, hospitals filled by CETA-trained personnel

To the next four years, most of Illinois' new jobs will be in offices, hospitals and health care facilities and day care centers, labor market statistics from the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security (IBES) reveal. New jobs created in the categories of clerical workers and service occupations will increase by 18.5 percent and 14.5 percent, respectively, exceeding the overall industry average growth rate of 11.3 percent. In the service occupation category, certain jobs will increase sharply: child-care workers, 65 percent; health aides, 47 percent; practical nurses, 39.3 percent; and food counter workers, 26.2 percent.

"These are the very occupations for which CETA (the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act) is most helpful in training workers," says Dr. Reginald Brown, director of the Mayor's Office of Employment and Training, Chicago.

"Statewide, CETA administrators have recently created training programs for practical nurses, clerical jobs — secretarial and bookkeeping — medical and dental technicians, food service workers and computer programmers. In fact, well over half of our current programs are training people for jobs in service industries."

To identify and meet emerging employment needs, Brown says CETA administrators and local business people cooperate to monitor trends and design appropriate training programs. CETA training can be on-the-job (OJT), with business and government splitting the cost of apprenticeship, in the classroom, or a combination.

"In many cases, CETA provides someone who wants to work with the start he or she needs," says Brown. "There are many examples of people who were trained by CETA to become LPNs (licensed practical nurses), and then went on to school to earn their RNs."

CETA administrators and local businesses work together through Private Industry Councils (PICs), made up of local business and industry leaders. A PIC, mandated by CETA's enabling legislation, is an advisory body that helps direct local CETA activities and assists in the administration of training programs.

James J. Brice, senior partner of Arthur Andersen and Co. accounting firm and chairman of the Chicago PIC, says: "CETA's charter is to train and place workers in productive jobs in private business. To achieve that goal, people must be trained for jobs that really exist. The role of the PIC is to help CETA administrators know where the jobs are."

Brice notes that IBES statistics show that CETA "has a tremendous opportunity to serve employers and employees alike."

"Employers have jobs, and employees have skills they need to do those jobs. Working together, CETA and the PICs help match workers with jobs."

State salary plan vetoed

Gov. James R. Thompson vetoed legislation last week that would have set up a legislatively appointed pay commission to determine salaries for state officials.

"I am concerned about the continuing need for adequate compensation review of state officers' salaries, but I believe the flaws in Senate Bill 269 make this an unworkable program," he said in his veto message.

Thompson said the bill does not cover all agencies, as it should, does not have gubernatorial representation on the board, and does not allow for selected changes to be made in the salary package presented by the salary board.

Nor does it require a majority vote to approve new salaries, he said.

The governor said sponsors of the measure acted in good faith, but that "the public perception of this bill is that it allows 'back door' pay raises."

He called for legislators to increase salaries of Illinois judges and cabinet officers.

"I believe we should also quickly develop a fair, workable and open method for determining the salaries of elected officials which will add to, not subtract from, the public's view of the legislative process."

The bill would have established a compensation review panel of 12 members to review and set salaries for the General Assembly, the judiciary, elected constitutional officers and certain appointed officers, including most cabinet positions.

LEAPS TO ESCAPE
AUTO ON SIDEWALK
Tina Petrillo of the 500 block of Washington Avenue escaped injury from an auto that jumped curbing at 5:35 p.m. Saturday when she leaped onto another auto to avoid being struck.

Charles Ragan, 3933 Gaslight Walk, Portofino Beach, said he and Tina Petrillo were leaving the 19th Hole Tavern, 2401 Washington Ave., and were on the sidewalk when a black auto emerged from behind a parked truck and approached at high speed. The motorist apparently was trying to strike them, he said.

Area praised as convention site

Convention industry leaders in Chicago and New York City are taking note of a national survey of St. Louis convention industry users and exhibitors in which St. Louis rates equal to or better than the Windy City and the Big Apple as a convention site.

The survey also indicates that this area's labor costs and the cooperation of labor are better than in Chicago or New York.

St. Louis also received particularly high marks for its exhibitor services, hotel and restaurant prices; convention center security services, and personal safety on the streets.

These are among the preliminary findings of a survey conducted by the Ad Hoc Convention Center Users' Committee, a group of St. Louis area trade, management and labor organizations and user groups formed earlier this year to analyze the strengths and weaknesses of St. Louis' convention industry.

"We're pleased, and frankly somewhat surprised, that St. Louis did so well against what most people think of as the premier convention cities," said Gary Johanboeke, co-chairman of the users' committee.

"Many of the respondents to this survey make decisions for organizations with thousands of members. The fact that they rate us so high bodes well for our future as a convention site."

In the national survey of 638 convention users and exhibitors, 29 percent cited Chicago (160 respondents) or New York (28 respondents) as the convention city they were most familiar with other than St. Louis.

Among that group of 168 respondents, 36 percent represented convention groups of one to 499 people, 37 percent had 500 to 2,999 members, and 19 percent had 3,000-plus members.

Seventy percent of 131 of the respondents rated St. Louis labor costs as the same or better than labor costs in Chicago or New York City, while 72 percent rated the Gateway City as the same or better regarding labor cooperation.

Sixty percent of these convention exhibitors and organizers rated St. Louis as the same or better than Chicago or New York regarding exhibitor services. Only one of the respondents most familiar with New York rated New York exhibitor services as better than services here.

An overwhelming majority of respondents ranked St. Louis hotel prices (178 respondents, or 95 percent) and restaurant prices (166 respondents, or 88 percent) as the same or better than in Chicago and New York City.

Sixty-two percent rated St. Louis as the same or better regarding convention center security services, while 139 respondents (72 percent) rated personal safety on the streets in St. Louis as the same or better than in Chicago or New York.

State champion South opens today at Alton

TIMMY O'TOOLE
Newest Warrior

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Greg White, David Paz, Joe LeMaster, Tony Segobiano, Timmy O'Toole. They're marked men.

They're starters on the Granite City South soccer team. And five straight state championships have made them marked men.

Granite City South was to square off against Alton today at 4:15 in its first game of the season. Because of the recent teachers' walkout in Granite City, the Warrior kickers (and the rest of the athletes in the district) had to forfeit several practice days. "This is the most unprepared we've ever been going into a game or a season," said South head coach Gene Baker. "And preparation is the thing with our program. We stress preparation, both mental and physical."

White was the best defensive player in the area as a junior last year. Paz was All-Stater last season who could help fill the shoes of since-graduated All-Everything David Fernandez (now at St. Louis University).

O'Toole is a senior transfer from powerful Rosary High in St. Louis, where he was starting striker last season. He and his family moved Granite City this summer.

White has played on three state championship teams at South, while Paz has been on two. O'Toole has been on one Missouri state championship club — at Rosary in 1979.

Tradition. Coaches around the area have once again picked South to be the team to beat. But Baker isn't so sure his squads will be that much better than the rest. "There's a lot more balance," he said, "and it's not because everybody's down. Everybody's up. Collinsville and Granite City North will be awfully good again. North could have one of its best teams ever."

Two juniors who were regulars on last year's team will be Billy Hency and Tony Segobiano. The diminutive Hency stands only 5-6 and weighs 125 pounds. But with the ball, he's a giant-killer. More than once last season opposing backs saw only his back as he raced past them.

Segobiano was South's "designated corner kicker" last season. His accurate foot led to several close-in goals. In goal, South returns everybody. Regular Joe LeMaster, the hero of his team's shootout victory over Chicago Bowen in the State Semifinals last season, will most likely be the starter again. But he'll be pressed hard by agile backup Bryan Willis and junior Bryan

Dodson. LeMaster stands 6-1 and weighs 155 pounds. Willis is 5-11 and 155 and Dodson is 5-11, 170. "Dodson has shown a lot of improvement," said Baker. "Right now, I'm thinking of keeping all three on the varsity roster."

South's depth over the years has been great. This year it could be even better, according to Baker. "Our bench could be the best it's ever been," he said. "Some of the starting positions are up in the air, but when it comes to the bench, it could be better than ever."

Leading the way among the substitutes will be Scott Greathouse (5-8, 155), Fritz Brewer (a giant-killer 6-5, 165), Matt Sheridan (5-8, 135), Timmy O'Shea (5-7, 145), Dave Modrunc (5-8, 155), Jim Crews (5-8, 155), Scott Vickers (5-11, 165), Jim Kellehan (5-10, 160) and Sammy Mendoza (5-9, 135). Absent this season will be Phil Popmarkoff, who is not out for the team.

DRILL TIME — Granite City North and South's football teams are busy preparing for their first games of the season. Following resumption of practices earlier this week after the teachers' contract talks postponed several workouts. Above, GRANITE CITY. The "strike" is over. The teachers and students are back in school. And the athletes can get back to the business at hand — playing their games.

Because of the teachers' contract disputes last week in Granite City, there was no school — and therefore, no games. Granite City North and South both were forced to cancel several athletic events, including soccer and cross country.

"Let's get back to work," said South football coach Jerry McKechan to his team Wednesday morning. "We've got Belleville East to worry about now."

South faces the unenviable task of facing a Belleville East team in its first game Saturday, Aug. 12, that went through the regular season undefeated and won the Southwestern Conference championship. "They (East) have been calling, wanting to know if we were going to be able to play," said McKechan. "This morning, they called, and I told them it was on."

Granite City North was forced to cancel one soccer game last Saturday at home against Quincy. According to Steeler head coach Bob Kehoe, an attempt will be made to reschedule it. "The main object is to postpone," said Kehoe. "I know Dick Stewart (Quincy head coach) feels the same way."

How far behind are the

Fernandez scores in St. Louis loss

STORRS, Conn. — Freshman David Fernandez scored the first goal here yesterday for St. Louis University, but it wasn't enough. The Billikens lost an overtime decision to the University of Connecticut, 4-3.

Fernandez, who graduated from Granite City South after leading the Warriors to four straight state championships, got an assist from teammate Jim Kavanaugh, another freshman. St. Louis' other two goals were scored by All-America John Hayes. One was unassisted and the other came on an assist from Kavanaugh.

Tony Pierce, a sophomore goalie from Granite City South, did not see action yesterday for Connecticut. The Huskies' winning goal came off the foot of Bill Morrone after 10:22 of overtime. The goal was scored on Billiken goalie Pat Baker, another freshman. Baker is a cousin to Granite City South head coach Gene Baker.

It was the season opener for both teams.

Granite City schools from the rest of the area? "We haven't had much of a chance to get our defense together at all," said Granite City North football coach Tom Wyrostek. "We've been trying to work on our offense. We'll have time, though."

North will have one less day to prepare for its first game which is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 11, at Roxana. "They (Roxana's) Shells should be pretty tough," said Wyrostek. "We lost quite a bit of size off last year's (7-1) team."

Granite City South's five-time state champions were forced to cancel their traditional season-opener against Lebanon. They're scheduled to jump right into the first tonight at Alton against the Redbirds, who are already 3-0 on the season, following a sweep through their own in-state tournament last week.

Granite City North's soccer Steelers, who defer the season with high hopes, are scheduled to play again Saturday, Sept. 5 at Belleville. Althoff in a Gateway East Conference game. "I'm just glad this thing is over," said Kehoe.

East waiting for Warriors

GRANITE CITY — As new the new head football coach at Granite City South, Jerry McKechan has a difficult job ahead of him. He's taking over a team that was 0-9 last season. He knows what the team went through, too. He was an assistant coach under Stan Wojcik, who has since resigned.

But getting enthusiasm going hasn't been much of a problem for McKechan. Getting practices going has defenses yet at all." First up will be Belleville East, the team that won the Southwestern Conference championship last season and advanced to the State Class 5A playoffs. "It'll be interesting."

South will feature quarterback John Linhart, one of the best signal callers in the area last season. And Rick Daily at the split end. Joe Schenke will be at a wide receiver spot, after going out about. "We're trying to build confidence in these kids," he said. "But they want to learn. They're eager to play. They want to win."

Behind Linhart in the Warriors' backfield will be fullbacks Scott Abbott, Don Hammond or Ken Portell. The running back will most likely be Tim Phelps. Dan Harris will be the team's backup quarterback.

On the line, South's tackles will be Jerome Carr (240 pound junior), Kevin McBe

(210 junior), Paul Hickey (210 junior) and George Jarvis (200 senior). Guard candidates include Cary McConnell, David Brown and Larry Wright and seniors Ken Doughty and Ken Allen. The latter two will most of their action as linebackers, however. At center will be Don Griffin, another junior. "As far as we can see, we're young," said McKechan. "Everybody up front is a junior. "We're going to be a throw first, run second team. We'll throw to our backs a lot. And some short stuff." Taking over the South program from Stan Wojcik (who resigned after last season) has been a round-the-clock job for McKechan. "I think we're pretty organized," he said. "Everybody knows what he's supposed to do."

Granite South Warriors

been. Because of the teachers' contract problems in Granite City, the Warriors' gridders were forced to give up several days of practices, setting them back even further.

"I have no doubt, however, that we'll get 100 percent from these guys," said McKechan yesterday morning. "But we've got to get to work. We haven't had much time to work on for football for the first time as a senior. The three were teammates all summer long on the Tri-City American Legion baseball team, as well as on South's baseball team.

According to McKechan, South will live and die with the pass.

"We'll show up, I can tell you that. Attitude isn't something McKechan has to worry

Field is set for first World Trotting Derby

DU QUOIN — A total of 18 horses were entered here yesterday in the inaugural World Trotting Derby at the DuQuoin State Fair.

The Derby, which replaces the Hambletonian on the Fair's schedule, will feature a purse of $450,870 for the 16 colt and two filly 3-year olds. The winner of the race will get $270,435. Second place is worth $135,217, third place $67,608, fourth $33,804 and fifth $16,902.

The Hambletonian had been run at DuQuoin since moving there from Syracuse, N.Y. in 1957. It moved to the posh Meadowslands Sports Complex in New Jersey this year. The World Trotting Derby will be run the same as the Hambletonian, with nine trotters going in two heats and the top five from each returning for a third heat. If either winner from the first two heats wins the third, it will be the champion. If not, the three heat winners return for a fourth and deciding heat.

The Derby is the richest trotting event ever to be held in DuQuoin.

Soccer parade

GRANITE CITY — The annual Granite City YMCA Soccer Association Parade will be held on Saturday, Sept. 19 at 10 a.m.

It will proceed from Namooki School east along Pontoon Road to St. Elizabeth School, where a brief ceremony followed by the opening games of the fall season will take place.

The Granite City Council gave permission at its regular meeting Tuesday night for the parade to take place along the route.

Locals do well

ST. CHARLES — Six Granite Cityans did well here Sunday in the annual Midwest-National Martial Arts Tournament.

Larry Martin of Granite City finished first in the Black Belt Form competition. Randy Lupardus was first in the Yellow Belt Fighting competition and Joe Harrington was first in the White Belt Fighting competition.

Lester Andrews was second in the Heavyweight Black Belt Fighting competition and Mike Utecht was second in the Red Belt Form competition and third in the Red Belt Fighting competition.

Laura Monical was third in the Women's Green Belt Fighting competition.

All competitors are students at the Choi Brothers Martial Arts School in Granite City.

Applications taken

GRANITE CITY — Boys and girls who are 15 or older are needed to referee during the fall season for the Madison County Girls' Soccer Association. A referee clinic will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. at Coolidge Junior High and Sunday, Sept. 13 at 1:30 p.m. at Central Christian Church. Referees will be scheduled for the entire season at the end of the season. They will be paid $5 per game. For additional information those interested may contact Nancy Mardi, at 451-9179.

New tennis coach

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City School Board, at its regular meeting Tuesday night, approved the appointment of Paul Greve as the new head coach of the girls' tennis team at Granite City High School.

The board also approved the appointment of John Hutchings as assistant football coach at Prather Junior High. He is a teacher at Logan Elementary School.

Madco soccer

GRANITE CITY — Rosters, waivers and fees for the Madison County Girls' Soccer Association fall season will be collected on Wednesday, Sept. 9 from 7:30 p.m. at Coolidge Junior High. At that time, managers should also turn in a list of dates and times they cannot play. Managers are reminded by Association officials that this is a firm deadline and teams will not be scheduled if fees and materials are not turned in.

Trojans open season today with Althoff

By JEFF WILSON
for the Press-Record
MADISON — Madison head soccer coach Gene Briggs is looking forward to the coming season. He won't have to look forward too much longer. His club was scheduled to host Belleville again, be the goalkeeper. "He's a tremendous goalkeeper, protect and he also has other qualities that make him an excellent all-around player," Briggs said. Rick Walker, playing in his familiar, mid-field position will round out the field of

Madison Trojans

Althoff this afternoon (Thursday) in its season opener at 4 o'clock.

Briggs, whose team is entering its third full season of varsity competition, has a lot to look forward to. The Trojans, who have been built from the ground up by Briggs, return several starters from last season's 4-12-6 squad. "It's not easy when there's no youth program in town," said Briggs. "A lot of these kids have never played soccer before they got here."

Carvel Claggett and Byron Parker are among the starters that Briggs put on the field this afternoon against Althoff in the Mid-South Conference game (Althoff is also in the Gateway East Conference in soccer). Avery Crawford, a four-year starter at Madison, will returning seniors. What positions remain open on the team will be filled by juniors and one freshman who play very well start.

"These juniors are the sophomores that saw a lot of JV time last year," Briggs said. It is on their shoulders that the season's success or failure rests.

Even with the losing record last season, Briggs had nothing but speed to say about his team. "All the games were great," he said. "We didn't get blown out in any of them."

This season, Madison will depend heavily on the juniors to keep them from getting blown out. John Lewis, Chris Sharp, Mark Mainbridge, George Madgett, Robert Bishop, Maurice Sliwa, and Byron Parker are the 17 goals on the junior varsity level last season. "I think they (Edmond and Hatfield) will complement each other very well," said Gwardys, who thinks his team will most likely attempt fewer shots this season. But he thinks the percentage of shots going into the nets will be higher because of improved accuracy.

Defense was one of Edwardsville's strong points last season. "We'll still emphasize hard-nosed, aggressive defense," said Gwardys. The most experienced back will be senior Jim Peterson.

"This team is totally different from last year's squad in character," he said.

GEC Preview . . .

Tigers no longer upstarts

First of a series
EDWARDSVILLE — High school soccer came a long way last season in Edwardsville.

In all, Edwardsville lost eight games. From last season's team that finished third in the GEC behind champion The South and runner-up Gate North. Replacing Mackie in goal will be junior freshman Paul Roper. "He's green," said Gwardys, "but he's determined and has shown excellent talent in practice. Just give him time. He'll be an outstanding goalkeeper."

The Edwardsville coach also, thinking he has a replacement for Blahaus in the defense role. John Hatfield, who stands 6-3½, should take up where Blahaus left off. He should be one-half inch taller, punchier, and more powerful. John Edmond, who plays mid-field for the Tigers.

The Edwardsville got its season off to a good start last week with an opening game 11-0 thrashing of hapless Bethalto. But Bethalto isn't the type of team that Edwardsville will have to beat to threaten Granite City and Collinsville for soccer supremacy in the area.

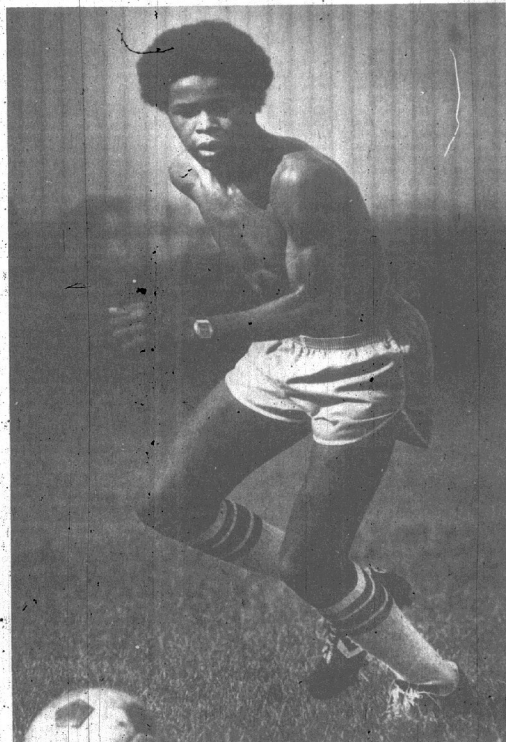

Edwardsville has switched sites for its home games this season from the front lawn of the Madison County Nursing Home (on Route 159) to the "Twinsville Park Field" on Center Grove Road in Edwardsville.

Refs are needed

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Park District is currently taking applications for soccer referees for the 1981 Women's Soccer Program. Play will begin Sept. 27 at Wilson Park. Interested individuals should have a solid knowledge of the soccer rules. For further information, contact the Park Office at 877-3059.

Soccer meeting

GRANITE CITY — There will be an important organizational meeting for the Granite City Park District's Women's Soccer Program. The meeting will be tonight, Sept. 3, at 7:30 p.m., at the Nameoki Recreational Center. All interested parties are urged to attend. The first games are scheduled for Sept. 27. All games are held in Wilson Park. For more information, contact the Park Office at 877-3059.

A car's engine needs a cooling system to protect it from destruction. The fact is that burning gases in the cylinders can reach a temperature of 5,000 degrees and produce enough heat to melt a 200 pound engine block in just twenty minutes. About one-third of the heat produced in the engine must be carried away by the cooling system. Some is utilized in heating the passenger compartment and, as it seems, an air conditioner produces heat in the process of cooling and dehumidifying the air. The engine cooling, heating and air conditioning system are interrelated and share a lot of the same components including the radiator, radiator pressure cap, hoses, thermostat, water pump, fan and fan belt.

If one or more of these parts is not working properly, your entire engine will not function the way it was meant to. If you need a tune-up or perhaps a new car is the answer, BIG 4 CHEVROLET COMPANY invites you to come see us at 1820 Vandeventer in Collinsville where we are open Mon. - Sat. for phone 345-5444. We are a supremacy dealer in offering complete service operations, sales and are interested in helping you and customer satisfaction. We also wish you a happy and safe Labor Day weekend and ask you to drive carefully.

AUTO TIP
Regardless of the climate, a 50-50 mixture of antifreeze and water should be maintained all year around.

October auditions scheduled at SIUE

The Twelfth Annual District Auditions of the Metropolitan Opera National Council's Auditions program are scheduled in October at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to William Tarwater, chairman of the SIUE department of music.

Deadline for application is Oct. 2. Auditions for qualified candidates from Southern Illinois are scheduled in the Communications Building theater, beginning at 1 p.m. on Oct. 23.

The most promising contestants will be selected to compete against other district audition winners from the central region. Regional semi-finals and final will be held at Orchestra Hall, 200 South Michigan Ave., in Chicago on Monday, Nov. 16.

The first-place winner in the regional finals will then be sent to New York, at National Council expense, to compete in the national semi-finals. Winners from 16 regions will audition before the general manager and his artistic staff on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House.

Cosponsoring the event are the SIUE Friends of Music, with Mrs. Maurice Dailey and Mrs. Gene Sternberg as co-chairpersons.

Applicants must have been residents or studied in the Southern Illinois district for the past 12 months and be within the following age limits throughout the period from Oct. 1, 1981 to April 15, 1982: sopranos, 20-30; mezzos and contraltos, 20-30; tenors, 20-32; baritones, 20-32; and basses, 20-33. No age waivers will be granted, Tarwater said.

Contestants must have voices with operatic possibilities, some voice training, musical background, and artistic aptitude. They must be prepared to sing a minimum of five arias, in more than one language and contrasting style.

Contestants must pay a $10 entry fee, and they must be sponsored by a school, college, music club or voice teacher, Tarwater said.

District awards consist of three cash prizes of $75 each. Application forms and other information may be obtained by contacting William Tarwater, chairman of the SIUE department of music, at (618) 692-3900.

Council to reconsider age limit on pinball & games

The Granite City ordinance prohibiting the playing of pinball machines and video games by youths under 18 years of age is not working, and cannot reasonably be enforced, most aldermen agreed during Tuesday night's meeting as they agreed on an 8 to 4 vote to grant permission for another game room to open in the city.

Mayor Paul Schuler said he has already arranged a meeting for Friday, Sept. 11, with the city attorney, city engineer and Aldermen Paul Flisk, chairman of the council's ordinance committee, to discuss ways in which the ordinance regulating game rooms can be changed to improve it and make it enforceable. He asked the aldermen to consider their ideas on a new ordinance.

Flisk told the council, "I would like to see a motion to take a good long look at this. There is a way we are going to be able to police our ordinance on this."

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward asked, "Are there any thoughts of lowering the age limit? That's where we are. That's a lot of trouble," to which Mayor Schuler responded, "Yes." The mayor said, "It is practically impossible to enforce under the present provisions."

Youths were consulted about the present ordinance said they knew of only one establishment where the minimum age limit of 18 was being enforced and that was at a doughnut shop. Enforcement there lasted about one week and younger players now are being allowed to use the machines.

Discussion of the game room regulations arose when Aldermen Everett Morlen of the First Ward made a motion that the council grant permission for Speedy Washer Co. to reopen the former game room in the Plaza Shopping Center, 2420 Nameoki Road, with four pool tables and 15 video games.

Morlen said the firm intended to make the establishment a club and parents would have to sign the applications for their children to be allowed in.

Morlen also contended, "When the other guy was in there (the former owner was Charles Hileman), he didn't have any trouble at all."

The motion to reopen the game room was seconded by Aldermen Casmer Skubish and passed on an 8 to 4 vote with aldermen Sam Whitmer, Fred "Pat" Schuman, Carl Kittel and Jake Varadani voting no.

The Plaza Shopping Center request is the second to be granted this summer, the other being Nelson Hedger's request to move from the Plaza facility and to open up in the Lord Nelson's building he owns in downtown Granite City.

The owner of one restaurant which has several game machines admits he has ignored the 18-year-old age limit, saying the games keep youngsters occupied while they are waiting for their food to be prepared. He also said that refusing youngsters permission to operate the machines would cut his revenue from them significantly.

Burn mortgage at Mount Zion

This week's "Round-Up Sunday" at Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 2067 Benton St., featured several special activities, including a mortgage burning ceremony during the evening service.

Mrs. Madge Boone and Mrs. Flo Monroe, charter members of Mount Zion Church, which was started 31 years ago, were among the 100 persons attending the event.

Theme of the entire day was "Press Toward the Mark."

Sunday School Superintendent Tim Clark welcomed members and guests at the morning worship service and the message was offered by Pastor Don Richmond.

A special program for children was presented by Officer Robert Knezevich of the Granite City Police Department, who discussed the need for youngsters to be "safety conscious."

A covered dish dinner was served at the noon hour in the church dining room. Entertainment during the afternoon featured gospel music and singing by the Bud Parent Family of the West Side General Baptist Church of St. Louis.

The fellowship period also was highlighted with music and songs by individual church members.

Country Fair at City Temple

A "Country Fair" will be staged Saturday at City Temple, 4751 Maryville Road, it was announced today by the Rev. A. E. Cepe, pastor.

The event will start at 10 a.m. and continue until dusk. The public is invited to attend.

Games will be offered, including pie-throwing, a tug-o-war, frog jumping, darts, horseshoes and apple dunking.

Pony rides, a dunking machine, rummage tent, pecans, hot dogs and pie tasting also will be part of the activities.

Special puppet shows will be featured at 12 noon and 3 p.m., the minister said.

Rivers dying faster than expected

By STEVE HAHN

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois and Mississippi Rivers may become little more than barge channels by the next century, a new environmental report says.

Most of the backwater lakes along the rivers will be marshland within 50 years if navigation levels remain the same, the draft report says.

Within 100 years, the marshes could become dry land, leaving only main river channels that will need to be dredged to remain open.

Heavy siltation in the backwater lakes will significantly reduce fish and wildlife populations and end the lakes' recreational value, the report says.

The real concern here is that the rivers are dying much faster than expected," said John Martin of Urbana, who helped prepare the report.

The study was completed by the environmental work team of the Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission, a Congressional agency that oversees use of rivers that flow into the Mississippi.

The team includes representatives of natural resource agencies from five midwestern states — including the Illinois Department of Conservation — the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and environmental and recreational groups.

Only members of the Missouri Department of Natural Resources declined to endorse the report. The document argues that no increase in river usage should be allowed until conservation measures are put into effect.

The team's findings run contrary to arguments by the barge industry and the Corps of Engineers, which advocated increased total use of the waterways.

The Corps is proposing to construct new locks and dams on the Mississippi. The new facilities, which would be located near current locks and dams, would allow barge traffic to triple.

Congress is expected to vote on the proposal sometime next year. The Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission is expected to forward a recommendation to Congress by the end of this year.

"Perhaps the most significant conclusion is that can be drawn from the report is that the environment of the upper Mississippi River system as we know it today is destined to become a navigable channel in little else within the next century unless we take action to halt the degradation of the non-main channel."

"The increased siltation is the result of several factors, including increased river turbidity caused by barges and farmland erosion."

"The natural river (the Mississippi) we have taken thousands of years to fill in. Man will accomplish the same feat in less than 300 years if no action is taken."

The report estimates that some backwater lakes are filling in at a rate of one-half to two inches a year.

Job Service workshop planned for Sept. 10

Local employers are among those who are being invited to attend a Job Service Improvement Program (JSIP) workshop Thursday, Sept. 10, at the Southwest Regional Office of the Job Service, 400 State St., Suite 400, East St. Louis.

The purpose of the workshop is to have employers make comments and suggestions to help the Job Service improve its services and offerings. The job service is the employment arm of the Illinois Department of Labor, Bureau of Employment Security.

Significant 1981 changes in the unemployment insurance claim laws will be discussed in depth at 9:30 a.m. by Kathryn Clayton of the Unemployment Insurance Training Unit, headquartered in Springfield.

Speakers at the opening session at 9 a.m. include William L. Lindsey, Southwest Regional manager for the Job Service, Herb Roach, vice-president of industrial relations for Basler Electric and Region V Job Service Employer Committee representative to the National Committee this year. He also is a member of the Local Employer Committee.

Also speaking will be Bud Gresham, director of industrial relations for Olin Industries, a member of the Local and State Employer Committee, and John Mazenko, director of industrial relations for Owens-Illinois, Inc., a member of the Local and State Employer Committee.

After the 9:30 a.m. discussion of unemployment insurance, employers and Job Service managers will be divided into work groups with one employer representative acting as group chairman. Comments and recommendations from employers will be welcomed during these sessions.

At 11 a.m., the group chairmen will report to the JSIP Committee on the results of each group's discussion and the session will conclude at 11:45 a.m. Reservations are requested by Wednesday, Sept. 9, from Lorraine in Lindsey's office, 674-0600.

Dallas sues to regain city job

William Dallas Jr. has sued the City of Granite City, seeking reinstatement as a secretary and reimbursement of his pay since being laid off July 15. He also asks for recognition of uninterrupted seniority.

Notified verbally of the layoff on July 15 by Mayor Paul Schuler, Dallas points out that he has seniority dating back to May 1, 1973. He has worked at various times for several city departments—engineering, building inspection, city inspection, sanitation, planning and zoning, humane and air pollution.

During the year preceding the layoff, he was working for three departments—engineering, inspection, and planning and zoning—the suit relates.

As part of his financial outlays and pension payoffs, the municipality this summer consolidated the engineering, inspection and air pollution departments under the supervision of the city engineer.

The Circuit Court document names the city and Mayor Schuler as defendants. It says a working agreement with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees was adopted as an ordinance by the City Council Nov. 5, 1980, and became effective when the mayor signed it Nov. 17.

Dallas quotes the agreement as calling for secretarial layoffs to be made in the reverse order of seniority, with the last individual laid off designated as the first to be recalled to work.

The suit says a city secretary originally hired March 9, 1979, Rosalee Perigen, has been retained. It also alleges that a new secretary, Norma Burns, was hired for full-time work after the July 15 layoff, despite Dallas' more than eight years of continuous service.

Dallas told the Press-Record Tuesday that he and a union representative met with Mayor Schuler July 17 and Schuler told them that he would reconsider and would notify Dallas within five days of his decision. "I received no notification," Dallas said.

He also contended the mayor told him the secretary being retained in the engineering department, Mrs. Perigen, "would talk" at having to handle planning and zoning, which would be handled by Mike DeRuntz and City Engineer Monroe Brewer.

The latest agendas of the Board of Appeals and Plan Commission, dated Aug. 27, are signed by Rosalee Perigen and designate her as secretary of those boards.

"If this is not an open violation of Ordinance 3757, I would like them (city officials) to explain what is," Dallas commented.

He also contended that he should have been given seniority consideration over Norma Burns, who was hired to handle part of the billing for the city's ambulance service.

"I did billing out of my office, too. How can he (Schuler) go out and hire people when there is a hiring freeze on?"

"I can understand the city hiring her when they said they cannot rehire any firemen, but they turn around and approve her appointment," Dallas said.

Housing development loans at record high

A new record was set this year in loans for low- and moderate-income housing by the state's housing finance agency.

Donald W. Hoaglund, director of the Illinois Housing Development Authority said $133,294,400 in construction and mortgage loans was made during fiscal 1981 (July 1, 1980 - June 30, 1981), a seven percent increase over the previous high of $124,070,200 loaned in fiscal 1980.

"We are greatly pleased to have accomplished this much during such precarious times in the real estate industry and in the face of record high interest rates and an uncertain bond market," Hoaglund said.

The loans financed 17 developments in 11 cities, including seven in Chicago, adding 2,860 new and rehabilitated apartments to the state's supply of rental housing. Most of the units will be subsidized under the Section 8 program of the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, which permits lower income families, the elderly and the handicapped to pay one-quarter of their income for rent while the subsidies pay the balance.

Hoaglund said that in its 11 years of activity, IHDA has loaned more than $739 million at below-market interest rates to finance 143 developments comprising 25,728 new and rehabilitated dwelling units—all rental or cooperative. He emphasized that no state appropriations or tax revenues are used in the process, but that the funds come from the sale of the IHDA's own securities on the national market.

River parkways and trails sought

Illinois was host to the National Mississippi River Parkway Commission last week at Fort Defiance State Park, Cairo. Two hundred delegates observed the confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, witnessed busy barge traffic on the waterways, and were served lunch by Cairo hospitality groups.

In 1985, the location of the annual meeting of the commission will be in Illinois. The site will be determined later. Cities under preliminary consideration to host the meeting are Quincy, Alton, Moline, Galena and Nauvoo.

This year, Kentucky sponsored the conference. Tourist attractions visited in addition to Fort Defiance were Columbus-Belmont Battlefield near Columbus, Ky., and the industrial projects at Hickman, Ky. Ten states along the Mississippi and the two Canadian provinces of Ontario and Manitoba sponsored the national commission.

Theme of the meeting was "The Great River Road and the New Federalism." The emphasis this year was on amenities along the route — parks, marinas, overlooks, trails, bikeways, rest areas and scenery, as part of the Mississippi River corridor. Illinois Commission members attending were State Senator Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville, chairman, and Representative Wyvetter Young of East St. Louis, Jim Keeher of Belleville, George Carpenter of Hardin, Andy Nicholson of Quincy and Kenneth Stobaugh of Nauvoo. Vadalabene was appointed as legislative liaison with Congress. Keeher and Nicholson were appointed to the promotion committee. Carpenter is on the historical committee.

Picnic for seniors Sept. 15 at ice rink

The Granite City Park District will hold its annual Senior Citizen's Fall Picnic on Tuesday, Sept. 15, at the Wilson Park ice rink pavilion.

The festivities are scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. Sept. 15, with a game period, lasting until 5 p.m. and featuring pinocle, bridge and other games.

Those planning to attend are being asked to bring a basket lunch for the picnic. The picnic meal will take place from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. The musical group—Stagecoach—will provide entertainment from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m., it was announced. All local senior citizens are being encouraged to attend the gala event, a park district spokesman advised. Friends may be invited. Additional information concerning the activity may be obtained by contacting the Granite City Township Center staff or the park office at 877-3059.

FIGHT, VANDALISM NEAR GC RESTAURANT Larry M. Otinger, 5445 Maryville Road, was bitten on the chest during a fight and his auto was struck by beer cans at 2 a.m. Saturday. He said he drove in circles around a restaurant at 27th Street and Madison Avenue in an effort to attract police. Two men were questioned by police after allegedly threatening him and throwing at his auto as a fight ended. Otinger said the original dispute stemmed from another motorist following his car too closely along Madison Avenue.

Ill. Rt. 111 to be closed

The Illinois Department of Transportation reports that FAU Route 9237, Illinois Route 111 north of Fairmont City will be closed to through traffic at the Alton and Southern railway crossing and detoured over Collingwood Road (Business Route 40) and Sand Prairie Lane, for a period of four (4) days beginning Sept. 8, at 8 a.m. through Sept. 11, 4 p.m.

The closure is necessary due to the railroad installing a rubber crossing surface for the north track at this location as part of the railroad maintenance program. Signing and traffic control devices will be provided to guide motorists through the detour. The department requests that motorists be patient and cautious when traveling.

Halt subsidy payments to Bi-State until Madison County demands me

By GARY SCHNEIDER

of the Press-Record

It may be blackmail, but Madison County is tired of being treated as "a second class citizen" and will stop paying the Bi-State Transit Agency its subsidy until some demands are met.

That was the message given by the Madison County Transit Board to Bi-State representative Darryl Thompson during Monday's meeting of the transit board. The board voted to cut off all additional subsidy funds, beginning with the Sept. 30 subsidy, unless Bi-State agrees to locate a personnel office in Madison County and give priority to building a bus garage here.

The motion to halt the subsidy to Bi-State was made by Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, one of the three members of the transit board, who noted that Madison County residents have been paying a quarter-cent sales tax to help fund bus service here, but Bi-State has refused to help the citizens here find jobs.

"I don't think we should pay them a nickel more until they do something for us. The taxpayers of Madison County's transit district have been fair and reasonable with Bi-State but they haven't been treated fairly or equally," Schuler contended.

Thompson angered transit board members when he said Bi-State could not make any decision on a location for an Illinois garage until it is determined in November whether St. Clair County will continue to subsidize bus service there. He indicated that if St. Clair County pulls out of the service, Madison County's chances of getting one of the four new garages Bi-State intends to build will improve, he said.

St. Clair County voters will determine in a November county-wide referendum whether to stay in a transit district and pay the accompanied a quarter-cent sales tax, or to dissolve the district and face bus service cutoffs.

If St. Clair County voters decide to continue to subsidize Bi-State, then Madison County's chances of being the location of one of the new bus garages would decrease, the transit board was told.

Mayor Schuler said that St. Clair County seems to dominate Bi-State's Illinois operations, even though the residents of Madison County are paying the same amount of sales tax to support it. An example, he said, is that Bi-State employs about 300 St. Clair County residents, but only about 100 Madison County residents.

Transit Board Chairman William Haine of Alton agreed with Schuler, stating, "There's got to be some way to get more of our people into these jobs..." He noted that

NOW urges governor to remove block to ERA

In response to Gov. Thompson's endorsement of Rep. George Ryan, (R-Kankakee) for lieutenant governor, the National Organization for Women has urged Thompson, a professed supporter of ERA, to influence Speaker Ryan to "let the majority rule" and ratify the Equal Rights Amendment in Illinois.

As Speaker of the House, Ryan has been a key opponent in efforts to ratify ERA in the Illinois House of Representatives. "A majority of legislators have consistently supported ERA but Speaker Ryan has effectively stifled the efforts of legislators to remove the unfair three-fifths rule that, more than anything, is keeping Illinois from ratification," Metro-East NOW, spokeswoman Sibyl Bellas said.

The office of lieutenant governor is one of outreach activities for the citizens of Illinois. Ryan's leadership has shown a lack of concern, if not outright opposition, on women's issues, especially the Equal Rights Amendment, she said.

CYCLIST IS HURT
Joseph Bulva, 29, Fairview Heights, was injured when his motorcycle, westbound on Niedringhaus Avenue, collided with the auto of Norman Claybourn, St. Louis, at the intersection of Niedringhaus and Grand avenues and 21st Street Monday. Claybourn said he did not see the motorcycle when he drove from the stop sign. There were no indications that Bulva sought immediate medical treatment, despite visible injuries.

from residents of all counties.

The board, appointed by Thompson's responses, agreed to pay the $110,000 August payment to Bi-State but not to pay that amount in September or until the county's request is met. The transit board asked its attorney, Michael Thompson, to review the situation and determine if it is proper.

Thompson said he felt it would be unfair and poor business for Bi-State to place job applications at every town or city hall in Madison County and not do the same for all towns and cities served by Bi-State. He also said that to open a second personnel in Madison County would not be cost-efficient, since applications are taken at the present Bi-State office

Knight gridders: They have depth

By JEFF WILSON

Most area schools have no trouble putting starting football teams on the field is up for grabs, according to this early in the year. But Cange. But junior Pat after the first games and McMillan has all but nailed player injuries, many teams down the tight end spot. have trouble putting a Steve Senecyn; will be competitive team on the Triad's split end.

This year the Triad look less imposing, but still appear to be a power for no such fate. They have a strength. Triad's all-time wealth of depth.

"If we've got any strength at all it's the number of kids who did play some varsity ball before," Knight coach Ted Cange said.

Triad has 20 seniors and 22 juniors on its 1981 team, a pleasantry according to Cange.

Of the 42 upperclassmen, eight top the 200-pound mark. It appears the team, that was 5-4 last year and has steadily improved, will again have size on its side.

Junior quarterback Steve Brown, at 6-2, 183 pounds will return to man the Knight ship. He has experience on his side since he started most of last season.

Damon Buehrer, a 6-2, 172-pound senior will try to replace scoring workhorse Bob King. He should help the Knights outside running game, according to Cange.

"King ran real well inside and gave us big size. We'll miss him there. But as far as the outside running game I think we'll do better," he said.

"We don't have the overall team size that we had last year," Cange said. But his offensive line fails to echo the same sentiments.

Senior tackle John Clark, at 5-11, 221 pounds will return as will 206-pound co-captain Steve Barbour at guard.

Senior center Mike Converse at 205 will anchor the central position of the offensive line. Junior guard Rich Beck at 207 will also bolster the line.

Finally, senior Brian Evans and junior Todd

Teasley will battle it out for the final tackle position.

Warriors set sights on sixth title

By PETE HAYES
The sparkle in the coach's eyes brightened as he watched the action on the field. He was watching the best player to ever play soccer at Granite City South — David Fernandez. But he was watching him as an image on a television screen, not in person. Fernandez has graduated and is now a freshman starter at St. Louis University. And Granite City South head coach Gene Baker was watching him earlier this week when St. Louis played at Connecticut. Fernandez led South to four of its five straight state championships. He'll be missed.

But don't count the Warriors out. They've got too much talent for that. In fact, they might be as good overall as they were last year.

"It's hard when you have to replace someone like David," said Baker. "Really you don't. You don't replace him. But that's all part of the game in high school sports. New kids are coming through all the time."

An especially new kid has come to South. And he's a good one. Timmy O'Toole, who started at striker for powerful Rosary High in St. Louis the past two years, has transferred to South after moving to Granite City with his family over the summer. "He's got a good attitude,"

South goalie Bryan Willis makes save

Baker said of O'Toole. "He gets a long great with the guys on the team. He seems happy to be playing here."

O'Toole's main assets are speed and ball-handling, according to Baker. "But he's a smart player. A very intelligent kid. You don't start for Rosary if you're not."

Back in the lineup this season are two mainstays from last year's state championship squad. They are up front and back. Greg White, the "secretary of Defense."

"We're depending on those two for a lot of leadership," said Baker. "They've got the experience to do it."

Experience and tradition. Two important ingredients in South's game plan down through the years. "Having so many kids who've played on state championship teams helps a lot. There isn't a player on the team who hasn't been a state champion, except for the freshmen."

Five straight state championships does seem to build a bit of a tradition.

Another mainstay back who'll be important to the attack this season will be Richie Moore, a 5-8, 140 senior. "He may have to help in the leadership role," said Baker. "He could develop into a standout."

Baker obviously knows what it takes to win a state championship. He could probably do it in his sleep by now. "You have to respect everybody you play," he said. "But you have to have confidence in yourself as a team."

"You have to instill respect for your team into doesn't hurt if they're a little scared of you. Winning five straight state championships instills fear in your opponent."

Madison kickers look for parity

Madison coach Gene Briggs

By JEFF WILSON
"Does Pele have a grandson living in Madison?" asked Madison Trojan coach Gene Briggs in a semi-comical tone.

"Does he have eight?" asked his co-coach Mike Garland. The answer was simple, but the exchange of words between the two coaches when sizing up their team left a feeling of optimism in the air.

That optimism carries over into the upcoming season.

"I'm looking for a competitive team," Briggs said before talking about more concrete points.

"This isn't Granite City where they're playing at this age," he said, holding his hand about waist high. "Many of these guys haven't played soccer before coming here."

With those words Briggs presented the biggest question mark of the upcoming season — inexperience. The squad, whose record was 4-12-6 last year, lost seven seniors. Only four seniors will be on this year's team. In essence this could be a learning year.

The returning seniors compose the nucleus of the club. All-Mid-South Conference team member Carvel Claggett will return to anchor a very questionable Madison defense. Using the words often heard at this time of year, Briggs called him, "fast, big, strong."

Returning letterman Byron Parker will again man the midfield position. "He looks small, but he's one of the better skill players we have," Briggs said.

Trojans want to be consistent this year

By JEFF WILSON

A 2-7 record would be nothing to brag about in the carpool, but after the Madison Trojan football team went 0-8 in 1979, you'd think Madison coach Al von der Haar would be happy. But such is not the case.

Von der Haar, in his first season back as the Trojan coach, led his team to a 2-7 record but obviously wasn't happy.

"Last year we started out with three good games, then the bottom fell out," von der Haar said. After three games the Trojans were 2-1. The bottom fell out when then-junior running back Willie Ball was injured. From the point of his injury last year the Trojans never recovered.

"The kids were really behind in their fundamentals. We had to throw an offense together at the beginning of the season.

"I wasn't happy with it

the kids were really behind in their fundamentals. We had to throw an offense together at the beginning of the season.

But it's a new season. New opportunities. New depth, or lack of it. "Any time you're in a school our size depth is always a problem," von der Haar said.

"Last year we had to force some experience on some people and it helped some of the kids. They responded well," he added.

The biggest question Madison faces now is who will the quarterback be? Returning QB Mark Zarr has been to few practices and his status is questionable, according to von der Haar.

At running back, Ball, a senior, will return and help the Trojans tremendously.

Other players that could prove important include: Sophomore defensive back Shaun Brown; 210-pound senior guard Craig Miller who von der Haar termed as "quick with a nice size"; Tackle Walter Davis; guards Sam Price and Greg Waters.

Von der Haar looks toward a total team effort this season with a flexible offense, in part helped by the wing-T formation in the backfield.

"You don't really have one kid that dominates the offense with the swinging player, like Ball last year, your whole offense isn't gone," von der Haar said.

Senior wide receiver Jim Peters will be back, and if Zarr, who was also an All-Quad County Conference punter last year, returns, the Trojans will have a large part of their offense remain intact.

Another plus, according to von der Haar is the cohesiveness of the coaching staff. Marcus Spragins, Don Smith, Terry Beer and Mark Giles return; the latter three for only their second year coaching.

This season will not be an easy one for the Trojans, and von der Haar knows it.

The teams he will play have already been assessed by von der Haar. Assumption — "not as strong as they usually are." Freeburg — "will be decent." Dupu — "always tough."

"It looks like it's going to be a four-team race (in the QCC).

McKechan hopes passes save South

By PETE HAYES
Jerry McKechan is a realist. He has to be.

McKechan, the new head football coach at Granite City South, inherited a difficult job. A team that was 0-9 last season.

He's starting at the ground floor and working his way up. But as if that wasn't enough, a teachers' walkout in Granite City cost him and his team valuable practice days until the IHSA notified them that they could resume practices Tuesday. "We lost four important days," said McKechan. "We're pretty much starting over, two weeks behind everybody."

"Out of five practices we had up to Tuesday, we've worked exactly one-half of one on defense. The kids here are the ones who are being hurt. They've been caught in the middle."

South, believe it or not, does have a few bright spots to look forward to. One will be the play of junior quarterback John Linhart. The 6-1, 170 signal-caller could develop into one of the best quarterbacks in the area before he's finished. "He's a very intelligent kid," said McKechan. "He reads defenses extremely well. He's a leader."

One of the people Linhart will be throwing the football to will most likely be slot back Rick Daily. The 6-2, 190 senior, who also will do the majority of the Warriors' punting chores, "is hard to bring down when he gets a head of steam," according to McKechan. "He's fearless."

A new face in the lineup will be wide receiver Joe Schefke, a senior who is out for football for the first time. "I don't really know why he hasn't been out before now," said McKechan. "He's got good hands and he knows the pass routes. He could be a sleeping."

Most of McKechan's thoughts are turned toward offense—simply because he and his team haven't had a chance to work on their defense yet. They'd better get started. The Warriors open their season Saturday afternoon, Sept. 12 at Belleville East.

"East has had two weeks of two-a-day practices," said McKechan. "They were going to be tough anyway. But with the extra advantage, I don't know what'll happen."

This could be year of the Steeler

By PETE HAYES
GRANITE CITY — Mark down 1981 on your calendars. It might just be the Year of the Steelers.

With a large contingent of starters returning from last season's team, Granite City North head soccer coach Bob Kehoe might finally be able to break the hex crosstown rival Granite City South has held on his team for these many years.

It's been seven years, in fact, since a Granite City North team has advanced to the State Finals. Even though many people felt North was one of the top teams in the state each of the seasons that have come and gone in between then and now, there was another team in town just a little bit better — Granite South.

But this season, if a teachers' contract dispute in Granite City ever gets settled, things could be different. At least soccer fans on the north side of town hope so.

Granite North Steelers

"I'm very, very optimistic," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "We've got some very good potential on the team. The attitudes in practice (before they were halted by the teachers' walkout) are outstanding."

Kehoe and St. Louis soccer go together. A former standout at St. Louis University High, he later went on to star for and later coach the St. Louis Stars of the North American Soccer League (now the California Surf). He was considered for the head coaching job of the St. Louis Steamers earlier this year when Pat McBride resigned.

But Kehoe seems happy coaching at the prep level now. And with the soccer talent in Granite City, that comes as no surprise.

"We've got some players here who can take us a long way this season," said Kehoe. "Both because of the varsity experience they gained last year and because they're just outstanding athletes."

A trademark of North teams in the past has been lack of a single superstar who dominates the action. "I stress teamwork," said Kehoe. "You've never been able to stop North by stopping just one player."

Paul Barrington may be the closest thing to a leader on the field that North will have this season. "He's a bull," said Kehoe of the 5-10, 165 pound senior. "He's a big, powerful kid. He's done a lot of work with the ball and has a good, strong shot — with either foot."

Two other seniors will be Brian Pickens, a 5-10, 155 pounder, and Eric Maas, who's 5-11 and 145 pounds. "Brian is bigger and stronger than last year. He's developed into a powerful player," Kehoe said. "Maas is a very intelligent player. He knows the game well. He's got a great deal of confidence and is good with the ball."

According to Kehoe, North may be reasonably strong in goal. "For the first time, it looks like we've got good depth at goal," he said. "We've got two goalies who are well-founded in their position." The two are Rich Branding, a 6-1, 165 pound junior, and Jeff Sharp, a 5-9, 140 pound senior who quit the team in the middle of last season but has returned.

"Right now, I'd say it's a tossup between the two goalies," Kehoe said. "Each one does something that the other doesn't."

Stealers this season should be midfielder Steve Trishuh, a 5-11, 150 pound junior. "He's a natural athlete. He reads the game very well."

Another midfielder will be Bryan LeVan, a 5-10, 145 pound junior. "Good with the ball and works hard."

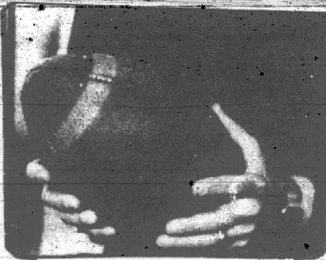

Others who'll probably see considerable action will be Benny Nolan, 5-8, 135 pounds; Tim Dean, 5-9, 140 pounds; David Sheikh, 5-10,

North senior Paul Barrington

"HOW TO MAKE FOOTBALL REALLY SUPER"

WATCH IT ON A 6½ FOOT T.V. SCREEN

THE KLOSS NOVABEAM from Bert's TV & Video

Watching football on a regular TV is like looking through the wrong end of binoculars. Hunking giants turn into little elves in football uniforms. But a large-screen television from Bert's TV & Video, has a bright, clear screen up to 12 times the size of conventional sets.

You get a better view than 50-yard line seats.

The NOVABEAM Model 1 by Kloss Video is the biggest, brightest, sharpest projection television ever offered for home use. Its 6.5-foot screen brings football (or anything else) to life.

A new era in Granite City soccer beginning

By PETE HAYES

A new era in Granite City prep soccer will soon begin. "Soccer A.D." After David Fernandez, that is.

Granite City South, five-time defending state champion, will have to do it without David Fernandez this time. The diminutive All-American who led the Warriors to the last four state titles. Ah, but there's the key. South won its first of the string of titles without Fernandez. So who's to say the Warriors can't do it without him again?

South head coach Gene Baker and assistant coach Mel Bunting watched as their team worked out last week at the school. The topic of another area prep soccer coach came up. "He (the coach) told me that it was a new era," said Baker. "He said that since Fernandez was gone, the days of Granite City dominance of area soccer were over. He said it wouldn't be North and South and Collinsville anymore. He said that his school and some others were one the way up and we are on the way down."

Funny. The same coach said the same thing at the beginning of last season. South went on to win its fifth straight state title.

To be sure, South might not be the superpower of last season. Last season was a once-in-a-lifetime situation. The Warriors not only copped the state crown, but also won the prestigious C.Y.G. Tournament in St.

Louis. Along the way last season, South defeated the eventual state champs from both Missouri (Vianney) and Indiana (Evansville Reitz).

"David is a super player," said Baker. "But he's not the only reason we won the state title last year. There are some talented players coming back."

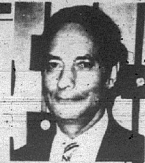

Add to that yet another transfer. Uh huh, ANOTHER one. Name's Timmy O'Tool. A senior. The last two seasons, he was starting striker for Rosary High in St. Louis, the 1979 Missouri state champ and one of the top teams in the Midwest.

O'Tool moved to Granite City over the summer with his family. His father has been a lifelong friend of Baker.

North's Wyrostek in familiar spot

By PETE HAYES
Granite City North football coach Tom Wyrostek is in a familiar position.

Following last season's 7-1 record, Wyrostek has a lot of holes to fill because of players lost to graduation. Wyrostek, who's coached three Granite North teams that have lost only one game each, is good at filling positions like that.

"We lost an awful lot of size," said Wyrostek. We had a tremendous amount of talent on that team." The 1980 Steelers were runnersup in the Gateway East Conference, losing only to eventual 4A state champion Belleville Althoff. The Steelers had a shot at making the playoffs as an at-large team, but because they only had eight games scheduled instead of nine (they had a week's layoff in the middle of the season), they didn't get the nod. Aside from the Althoff 21-0 loss, the closest another team came to North was 15 points.

*Granite North

"That gave a lot of our underclassmen and substitutes a chance to play," said Wyrostek. "That's important, especially this season, that they have that game experience under their belts."

One of those lost to graduation was last year's quarterback Danny Patterson. His replacement appears to be Carl Luehmann, last year's backup. The 5-9 senior has a good eye. "But his size might be a factor," said Wyrostek. "Height is always a plus. And when you don't have it..."

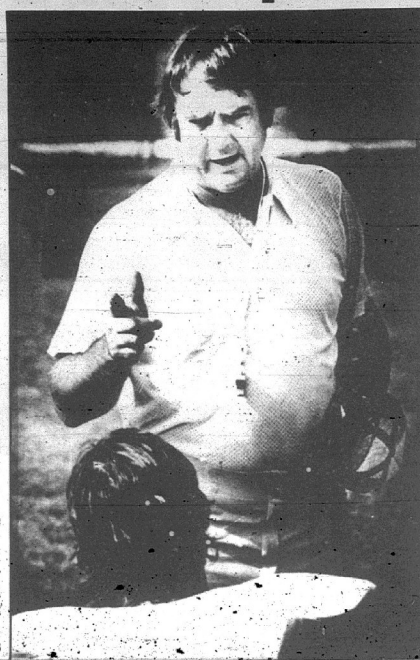

Luehmann's backup will be Daren DePew or Barry Watson. "But right now, Carl Luehmann starts our first game," said Wyrostek. "He's a good leader, has lots of spunk and has a good eye for reading defenses."

DePew will be a regular running back for the Steelers. The 6-1, 192 pound junior could develop into one of the school's best ever. And there have been some pretty good running backs in North's short history.

Also seeing action in the backfield will be fullbacks Al Pringle and David Davis and running back Doug Shepard.

"Our players learned how to win last year," said Wyrostek. "They got a lot of experience because most of our games were decided long before they were over."

On the offensive line, North will feature Jim Wyrostek (coach's son) at Dickey (6-0 junior). Split it center. The 5-11 senior will be backed up by Brad Bush and Johnny Luehmann.

North coach Tom Wyrostek

On defense, returning starters will be Carl Luehmann, DePew, Pringle and Watson in the backfield; Crawford, Wyrostek and Giese at linebacker. "We haven't had that much time to work on our defense," said Wyrostek. Because of the teachers' walkout in Granite City, the schools lost nearly five days of practice time. "That really sets us back," said Wyrostek. "If you miss just one practice, you're behind."

"Like this, it's almost like starting over."

"Now it's just a matter of getting our there and doing it."

Tight ends will be Johnny Morris (6-1 junior), Joe Hubert (6-2 senior), Bobby Quick (6-1 junior) and Joe Dickey (6-0 junior). Ends will be Brad Watson and Johnny Luehmann.

Kahok soccer: Back again

By RICK WELLE
Jim Stranz was sitting up in the press box at the Football Bowl looking over the Collinsville High junior varsity soccer team at a recent game. Stranz, the varsity soccer coach for the Kahoks, had as much attention on that game as he would on a varsity game.

Many of the things he was thinking out loud as he watched the game were points he stressed over and over again with the varsity squad last year. He still stresses many of the same points, which is why the Kahoks are a good, sound, fundamental soccer team again this year.

"We've got depth and we've got people coming up," Stranz said as his eyes remained fixed on the game below him.

If he sounded sure of himself, he had every reason to be. Collinsville finished last year with a 19-3-1 record. The Kahoks defeated Granite City South for the first time in its history and went all the way to the finals of the sectional before eventual state champion South thumped them out of the playoffs.

This year, Stranz has much of his talent back. He's hoping to put it together and at least equal the team's accomplishments of last year.

Not returning will be two keys to last year's squad: forward Bill Lane, the team's leading goal scorer, and goaltender Jim Dalla Riva, one of the top goalies in the area.

Additional losses include John Ambrosius, Matt Prsha and Todd Sachtleben, the team's leading assist man.

The Kahoks, however, look strong despite the losses. Gerry Modglin returns to shore up the defense, Matt Massa returns to control the midfield and Bobby Tejada brings back his speed to the forward line.

Any one of those three players has the ability to dominate a game.

"Right now we've got physically good speed," Stranz said. "Mentally we've got some good experience. We're returning six starters."

"And we have an intangible: tradition. The boys have some good feelings about themselves."

"This team is just learning. It's got a long way to go to become soccer players."

But they're getting there," Stranz said.

One of Collinsville's strengths this year will be its defense. Heading the fullbacks will be Modglin, a senior. Toward the end of last year Modglin took control of the goal area and almost single-handedly kept the Kahoks in the game when they lost to South in the sectional.

Stranz calls Modglin his sweeperback, "kind of an all-purpose boy. He's the director of the defense. He's the boy we're really counting on."

Joining Modglin in the backfield will be senior Rich Hensler, who is "nails on the wing," according to Stranz, and will help on offense as well. The other fullback will be John Bone, another senior.

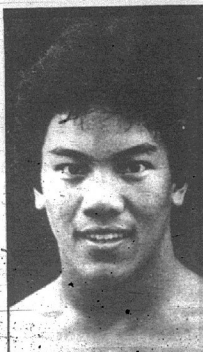

Three-year letterman Massa will head up the midfielders. Massa probably has the best ball skills on the team, and his ability to move the ball to an open area is vital to the Kahoks.

SWC soccer 1-horse race

The race for the Southwestern Conference soccer title doesn't appear to be much of a race. The Collinsville Kahoks appear they'll have little trouble repeating again in 1981 as the conference champs.

Collinsville did lose several key players the likes of leading scorer Bill Lane and No. 1 goalkeeper Jim Dalla Riva. But head coach Jim Stranz looks as if he's put together another team to equal last year's 19-3-1 record.

Probably the closest threat to the Kahoks for the SWC title is Belleville East. The Lancers, under head coach Phil Aleman, were more than respectable last year and return with a lot of offensive firepower.

All indications are that Larry Montgomery's Alton Redbirds are rebuilding this year.

By JEFF WILSON

If there is a word that best sums up what second-year Triad Knight soccer coach Steve Garland wants to use to emphasize his 1981 goal for his team it has seven letters in it.

Curiously those seven letters represent one digit for each senior and junior member on the team. The key word for Triad is I-M-P-R-O-V-E.

"It's not good to say, but this year the record doesn't mean anything," Garland said.

In Triad's first year as a junior varsity team last year, the team finished 5-3-1. This year soccer at Triad will become a varsity sport, and a young team composed of seven upperclassmen, ten sophomores and 11 freshman will represent the school.

"Everybody's back. When you're this young it's going to be a learning year," Garland said.

An "extremely tough schedule" also may stand in the way of a highly successful Triad season. During last year's season, Triad was scheduled to play St. Paul Highland, two teams that had won the state championship the year before.

"Last year everybody said we were going to be lucky to win one game and we wound up winning five of our first six. You never know,"

Garland said.

Garland will impose no secret restrictions on how he intends to win with such a young team. He states vehemently that his team will be in condition.

"If you can play as strong in the last period as you can in the first that'll make the difference," Garland said. He feels he has the players that can play strongly.

Three outstanding sophomore players from last year now have another years experience under their belt and should be stronger. Junior striker Jeff Slaby who led Triad in scoring last year will return to lead the offense.

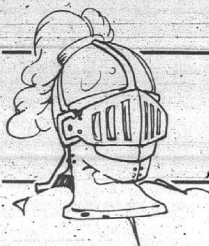

"He is our best player," Garland said with no hesitation.

Junior midfielder Jeff Seuss termed "an excellent player" by Garland will also be back as will junior Bob Barker.

"These guys really stand up above the rest of the crowd," Garland said. But his praises failed to stop there.

Fullbacks Tim Kruse and Tom Marchetti and forwards Scott Klobuch and Kelly Vogel, all sophomores with one year of experience will come back better than when they left, according to Garland.

"Since we have so few seniors we're really not strong anywhere. We'll rely the scoring chores. Freshmen Ted Hines and Andy Hoedebecker could be just what the doctor ordered to fill the position.

Triad

"As long as there's improvement this season, I'll consider it good. With my schedule as tough as it is I have to look at things realistically," Garland said.

"I don't really know what to expect. I'll be able to tell more at the end of the year," he said.

By the end of the 1981 season Garland will also know how his seven upperclassmen and seven-letter philosophy have panned out. Until then he considers guessing about the Knights' fortunes a shot in the dark.

Two-horse race for SWC crown

The Southwestern Conference can be summed up in one word: Football.

Sure, it has its share of excellent basketball teams, track squads, etc. But few can deny the Southwestern Conference is one of the strongest football powers in the Metro-East and the state.

The rule of the SWC is, above all else, speed. And early indications show that fans aren't going to be let down this year.

Here's a brief rundown of the conference:

EAST ST. LOUIS SR. — Coach Bob Shannon went on last year about how his team was "inexperienced." But even with his "inexperienced" squad, he managed to go through the 1980 season with only two losses.

As is the case almost every year, East St. Louis' strength in '81 will be team speed.

BELLEVILLE WEST — The Maroons had a tough go of it last year, finishing with a 3-6 record after losing their first six games of the season.

This year, however, West may once again establish its strength in football.

BELLEVILLE EAST —

As always, fans can expect another physical East team. Although a lot of players graduated this year, including quarterback Jeff Larson and running backs Brian Brumley and Paul Bessler.

ALTON — Look out, Metro-East, because the Redbirds just might be the team to beat in 1981.

First-year head coach Jack Martin isn't exactly new on the Alton scene. He was an assistant coach under former coach Wayne Williams for 10 years. And with the talent he's taking over this year, it looks as if he's going to have a good opening season.

Kahoks hungry for winning season

By RICK WELLE
Collinsville High head football coach El Eschman is making one thing clear: The Kahoks are going to take the 1981 season one game at a time and see what happens. "People look at the schedule and they know it's tough," Eschman said. "But I feel if we can get the kids to believe in themselves and I think they do right now and the players get some things going from the very first game, then I think it can get us turned around." Eschman would, be the first to agree the program needs to be turned around. Last year the Kahoks lost their first eight games before taking the season finale from Cahokia. Collinsville hasn't had a winning season in five years. "We'll take it from week to week," Eschman said. "All our players will have to play exceptionally. We have to play up to the potential of every individual on every play." Things won't be any easier for the Kahoks this year, either. The schedule is basically the same except that Cahokia, the only team Collinsville beat last year, has been dropped and Belleville Althoff, state champions in its division last year, has been added. Instead of playing East St. Louis Sr. twice the Kahoks will face Belleville West twice.

"We'll prepare for game No. 1 and work from there," Eschman said.

To the Kahoks' advantage, they do have 15 returning lettermen to work with. The entire starting offensive line and four of five down defensive linemen return this year.

Hardest felt will be the loss of quarterback Todd Miller, who as a senior last year passed for more than 1,000 yards, and wide receiver Alan Cooper who caught for more than 800 of those yards.

From early indications, senior Steve Bluemner will be called upon to step in Miller's shoes. Bluemner is a good athlete with a strong arm and some experience at the QB position.

The main problem there is that Eschman is the best coach in the area. Smith, who Eschman said is also looking good. But if Smith doesn't come around quickly enough Bluemner will pull double duty.

In addition to playing both offense and defense, Bluemner will be the Kahoks' punter. Last year he averaged more than 40 yards per kick.

Collinsville does have two split receivers that will help out considerably this year. Seniors Lance Davidson and Randy Nelson both have decent speed and the hands to match.

Kahoks hope to improve on 1-8 record

Eschman said he doesn't plan to deviate from last year's pass-oriented offense.

"I do hope to be able to run with the ball better," he said. "From what I saw (in an preview game) Collinsville's running game was almost non-existent last year. The Kahoks are looking to senior fullback-tailback Dave Matthews, who runs the 40-yard dash in 4.7 seconds, to help in that department.

Junior Sean Bethel is also a fullback, and the two look to have the starting positions locked down. Also in competition for running back positions are senior Paul Wedesky and juniors Chuck Trione, Brad Mayes and Jeff George.

Starting at tight end will be senior Jim McConkey, who stands at 6-9, 235 pounds. Kyle Presnall will be used as both a backup and for double tight end sets. The returning offensive

"At this point we're working on multiple sets," Eschman said, which include the I, double wing and even the old shot gun. "Until we find one that seems to be the better of the four or five sets, we'll use them all."

Defensively the Kahoks will basically be sticking with the 5-4, according to the Eschman. The key nosetackle position is still up for grabs. Seniors Steve Gordon, Stuart Jacobs and Harvengt are all fighting for that spot.

At right tackle will be senior Kenny Ahart, who currently is under the 280-pound mark. Ahart has dropped more than 50 pounds from his playing weight last year. Collinsville won't be giving much away at the left tackle position either with 245-pound senior Mike Kleb.

Rounding out the five down linemen will be Bluemner at one end and Presnall at the other. Juniors Greg Calvin and Tom Motin look to be the top reserves at those spots.

Girtman, Vatanian and Bethel are all looking strong as linebackers. Eschman said, and that area looks to be pretty well locked down.

Big Red '81: This year?

If nothing else, the St. Louis Football Cardinals have one claim to fame this year: They had one of the best — if not THE best — college draft.

To pick up a player the likes of E.J. Junior in the first round is enough to keep head coach Jim Hanft drooling for the next 12-15 years. But to find a quality player like Neil Lomax still sitting around waiting for a phone call in the second round...well, that's nothing short of ecstasy.

Few can deny the talents of Junior. The 6-3, 235-pound linebacker is more like a standing lineman. His quickness and agility is matched only by his sixth sense for the ball.

Lomax is the quarterback of the future. His uncanny leadership for a rookie and pinpoint accuracy excited St. Louis fans through the entire pre-season, when the Cardinals compiled a 3-1 record.

Unfortunately, two rookies does not a team make. That's what all the experts are trying to tell the optimistic Big Red fans who were screaming "Super Bowl" after the first three preseason games.

The problems look to lie in several areas. The biggest gap appears to be in the defensive secondary. With Roger Wehrli at one corner and Tim Collier at the other the Cardinals don't lose too much. Few will deny, however, that Wehrli, a 13-year veteran, has seen better days.

The Big Red's weakness for years has been coverage across the middle of the field. The Cardinals are hoping Ken Greene, Carl Allen and Lee Nelson will take up the slack.

Even with the coverage, however, St. Louis still has to establish a pass rush, a perennial sore spot. Mike Dawson is the nosetackle with muscle like Curtis Greer, Rush Brown, Bob Pollard and Bill Acker to either side of him.

The three-four defense is tough against the run, especially with the linebacking crew the Big Red has managed to scrape together. But until the Cardinals become more adept at blitzing to keep their opponents off balance, their defensive woes won't go away.

Offensively, St. Louis has problems it hasn't had to deal with much. One of those problems is at tight end. Doug Marsh, one of few hopefuls, is now out for another two or three weeks with a strained knee. Until that spot is more secure, it will be difficult for the Cardinals to shake loose speedster wide receiver Mel Gray and hands-of-gold veteran Pat Tilley.

The offensive line is again suffering because of injuries. The patrolwork line has Dan Dierdorf at right tackle, and barring another injury to him that spot is secure.

Center Tom Brahoney is light at 218 pounds but holds his own, especially in passing situations.

Of course, there's 16-year veteran Jim Hart at quarterback. Hart doesn't have the mobility of his backup Lomax, but his statistics prove he is still one of the premier quarterbacks in the league.

The Cardinals' strongest suit unquestionably is their running attack. O.J. Anderson compiled 1,352 total yards rushing and averaged 4.5 yards per carry. He has to be considered one of the top three running backs in the NFL.

Starting alongside Anderson will be Theotis Brown, who at 6-2, 225 pounds gives out more punishment than he takes. Brown takes over the starting spot from Wayne Morris, an excellent blocking back and master of the delayed draw. Morris will still be seeing considerable playing time.

Specialty squads will hold their own. Stump Mitchell, a 5-9, 188-pound rookie out of The Citadel, has found a home in St. Louis, especially since his 100-yard runback on a kick-off return Sunday against the Bears. Mitchell is said to have all the moves of Terry Metcalf only with better hands.

Neil O'Donoghue returns this year to do the place kicking. He came on last year as an unknown and hit 11 of 15 field goals, five of eight outside of 40 yards.

The punter will be rookie Carl Birdsong, who stole the job from Larry Swider. Last year in his first year with the Big Red Swider averaged 41.5 yards per kick. Birdsong did well in the preseason, and Cardinal coaches are hoping he'll pass the true test once the season begins.

Law enforcement committee studies revenue options

Ways to maintain its programs despite growing financial uncertainties are being reviewed by the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

A budget for general operating and administrative costs for January through December 1982 was set at $65,000 during a late-August meeting held in the Four Flags Inn at Red Bud. Items budgeted were personnel at $42,850, contractual and auditing costs $2,700, travel $2,400, commodities $800, other costs $3,200 and "911" emergency telephone service $4,000.

Commission board members include Madison City Clerk John N. Bellcoff, Madison County Sheriff Emil J. Toffant and Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Weizer.

John O. Ellis, SILEC executive director, said the second part of a mobile team training application has been approved, perhaps enabling the training to continue through 1982. Commission President Frank H. Thompson noted that the executive committee met in early August to develop budget recommendations.

Apart from the mobile team budget, the executive committee considered scheduling a work week of five, four or three days for the executive director and administrative assistant.

It was concluded that, other than the mobile team, SILEC can operate effectively on a four-day week. That approach was included in the new budget.

Ellis related there is a possibility that additional funds will be received to help meet administrative expenses.

However, he added, in order to maintain the mobile team operation and the reduced budget for administration, it will be necessary to request larger contributions from the seven member counties than were received last year.

The contributions provide general operational revenue and also matching funds for grants.

Proposed meeting schedules for the board and executive committee were discussed in detail, with a decision on the schedules deferred until November.

Ellis said that not only SILEC is concerned about the financial outlook; the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission is facing similar problems, he said, adding:

"We received a questionnaire form from ILEC regarding initial procedures for the phase-down and close-out of grants."

"In responding to this, we provided an outline of the board's thinking as far as training is concerned, and reported that we were discussing alternative ways of continuing the general operation."

"We said there are no plans to close down in the foreseeable future. We are requesting that 1980 'MBG' grants be extended through Sept. 30, 1982, the maximum time to extend such funds."

"We probably will receive some additional funds from the Illinois commission, and these will be used judiciously."

"Verbal commitments have been made by the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement to conduct jointly with our mobile team a substantial number of training programs this year.

"Our 4902 training schedule, which has been completed, is set to bring more certified training to our region. We hope this will reduce the cost of sending people away for training."

Pres. Thompson said he appreciates the seriousness he senses among board members. He commented:

"Whether or not we get federal funds, we are still facing crises. We have developed a robust organization, and our staff is a premier staff."

"Maybe now we can begin to talk more about local and regional needs."

"When we come up with proposals, there is no reason why we cannot approach the government in a different way and then come to our board with recommendations. I would like some hard work along those lines."

"The sun won't stop rising, and crime won't stop—when federal funds stop, I salute everyone for continued support of SILEC and for the work they are going to do."

Ellis said a liaison is being set up with St. Clair County juvenile courts by working with state and other agencies dealing with minors who become the courts' responsibility.

The SILEC staff was authorized to award state juvenile justice revenue allowances between Sept. 1 and their expiration Sept. 30, subject to acceptable applications received. An application from Madison County is anticipated.

Next meeting of the SILEC board of directors will be Sept. 22 at Bernhard's Restaurant, Columbia.

Drugs among loot seized in MEGSI raid on GC apartment

When undercover officers of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois obtained warrants to search the apartment of James "Buddy" Clubb, 65, of 3223 Maryville Road, Apt. 2, Thursday afternoon, they decided to take Granite City police detectives along with them and the detectives said they were glad the MEGSI officers did.

Among the items removed from the apartment by police, besides drugs, were three television sets, eight stereos, five turntables, 18 speakers, a guitar, four tape decks, a 410 gauge shotgun, three telephones (including a Mickey Mouse phone), old coins and a partial stamp collection.

Also, jewelry (including expensive diamond rings), silver candleholders, a silver tableware setting, an adding machine, an electric shaver, binoculars, headphones, two cases of tape recordings, a police scanner, cameras, a movie projector, several boxes of tools and numerous other items.

"We are going to hold these items until we determine who the owners are," Detective Tony Eck told the Press-Record. The items nearly fill the small evidence room in the detective division.

Eck and Detective Craig Nomm expressed disappointment that few if any of the items of value had been engraved with the driver license numbers of the owners under the city's Operation Identification program.

Captain of the Patrol Division Harry Mitchell held up a pair of heavy silver candleholders and commented, "What a shame. With something this valuable, you would think the owners would protect them by having them engraved."

Officers said it will take approximately a week to inventory and classify all of the items removed from the apartment. He urged persons who suspect some of the items may be theirs to wait for an announcement to come to the police station and attempt to claim stolen merchandise.

The court order to search the apartment was served by detectives and MEGSI agents at 4:13 p.m. Thursday and police used a pickup truck to haul the items to the police station.

MEGSI agents seized 16 bottles and bags of pills and medicines in the apartment and Clubb and a woman found in the apartment were jailed.

Subsequently, Clubb was charged with five counts of possessing controlled substances and Linda L. Allison, 28, of the same apartment building, was charged with three counts of delivering controlled substances to undercover MEGSI agents.

His bond is set at $50,000 and hers is $35,000. They were transferred Saturday morning to the Madison County jail.

Jim Nichols, MEGSI executive director, alleged that an informant told them that Clubb was "the top cog" in an operation which exchanged drugs for stolen items.

He contended there is "a stable of Kirkpatrick Homes girls" who go to doctors and weight loss clinics and obtain drugs weekly or twice a week for the operation.

All drugs seized at Clubb's apartment were Class Three felony drugs, Nichols contended. Also found were books of food stamps and public welfare checks. "I would guess the taxpayer was paying for all these drugs to keep the operation going," Nichols commented.

He said that Granite City police had been watching Clubb's activities for some time, and noted that fencing operations are easy to identify "but hard to prove" without undercover work, such as is supplied by MEGSI.

Water level at Horseshoe topic of ongoing debate

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Bill Nichols, owner of much of the private property around Horseshoe Lake, said at a public meeting Friday afternoon that he may file suit against Namecki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehlich for what he alleges is illegally altering the depth of Horseshoe Lake and endangering fish life in the lake.

Mehlich, who calls Nichols "a big cry baby," said he is only doing his job in protecting Namecki Township from flooding and has the blessing of the Metro-East Sanitary District in keeping the lake level low enough to accept water from the township in times of heavy rains.

Nichols alleged at the Crime Prevention Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon that Mehlich has the wheel which opens and closes the gate used to control the water level and that Mehlich "refuses to give it back to the sanitary district."

Mehlich told the Press-Record it's not really a wheel, but more of a crank. "Sure I have it. I'm looking at talking to you," he said on the telephone. He said Walter "Shang" Greathouse, president of the sanitary district, gave it to him during a heavy rain. He has objection to the township keeping it. "It makes more sense to have it here where we can keep Namecki Township from flooding than to keep it in East St. Louis or somewhere," Mehlich said.

Greathouse said Mehlich has the wheel, which weighs about 40 pounds and takes 40 men to turn, "but it doesn't matter, since someone Thursday hacksawed through the shaft the wheel goes on and the wheel can't be used anymore. The gates are closed and likely to remain that way until repairs can be made, he said.

Greathouse stated, "I think what we will do is to just put two big islets on the will do is to just put two big islets on the big gate and a cable and we can use a big truck with a winch or a crane to raise or lower it. Something that everyone does not have in this back yard. That should solve the question of who opens and closes it."

Nichols also is alleging that Mehlich has, on several occasions, broken the water gate and heavy rain had brought the lake back to a nearly acceptable level and Granite City Steel has agreed to put the lake in a water a day and night, "I think it's rising," he said.

levee district has rewelded the culverts closed several times, at a cost of about $200 each time, but the culverts usually are broken open again within two hours, Nichols alleges.

Mehlich contends he has broken the culverts open only once, after a heavy rain, and said Greathouse was there with him when he broke the culverts open. "Sure I had his permission. He was standing right beside me," Mehlich said.

Greathouse told a reporter that Mehlich has opened the welding on the outlets several times. The road commissioner didn't always have the sanitary district's blessing when he did this, Greathouse added.

Mehlich said three times that Greathouse' statement was "probably correct," but then he denied breaking the culverts open, except on the one occasion. "The other times those welds were broken, Shang and I were in meetings together, so I couldn't have done it," Mehlich said.

Greathouse responded, "I don't know. Somebody keeps breaking those open." He said that during one heavy rain, he got the wheel to open the low water gate and gave it to Mehlich and then watched while Mehlich broke open the welded 36-inch culverts to keep the lake level from rising.

Nichols said the problem has been further complicated as Granite City Steel temporarily stopped putting water into the lake last week. The steel company normally adds 21 million gallons of water a day to the lake from its waste treatment plant—water that the company pumps from the Mississippi River.

Without that water and with the gates and culverts open, the level of the lake dropped drastically, about 18 inches two weeks ago. By Aug. 14, Greathouse said, the culverts had been rewelded closed, Mehlich had closed the low water gate and heavy rain had brought the lake back to a nearly acceptable level and Granite City Steel has agreed to put the lake in a water a day and night, "I think it's rising," he said.

Nichols commented, "It's a good thing if we had had hot weather and had not had that rain, we would have had a massive fish kill."

Mehlich contends the lake is deep enough around the Quality Sand pits where fish would have gone there and would not have died, even if there had been hot weather. "Nichols could have been out there scooping them out with a net and selling them," Mehlich contended.

Nichols disagreed, saying that to put all of the fish in the lake into the small area excavated by Quality Sand would kill most of them, since there would be inadequate oxygen in the water.

Nichols and Mehlich disagree about the current level of the lake.

"According to my measurements, the lake is normal. It was high two weeks ago," Mehlich said. He said Nichols showed charts he has kept for years and contends that the lake is 6 inches below where it should be and that boaters now cannot use the lake because their boat motors keep hitting bottom.

The low water problem is going to become more evident in the next month, Nichols said, as duck hunting season approaches, since the duck hunters cannot get onto the lake to build their blinds, which normally are built before October.

Greathouse says one duck hunter has been bothering him about the low level of the lake. "I told the man I could care less about the duck blind and even less about the fish. I'm concerned about flooding Namecki Township, including Arlington Heights, Pontoon Beach and part of Miracle Manor. I'm not in the Conservation Department," he added.

"I just wish all these guys would get together, have a meeting and decide what level the lake should be at and we'll leave it there. I talked to Jim Heilbreck (assistant to the director of the Illinois Department of Conservation) and told him I'd tell the whole level they want," Greathouse told the Press-Record.

"I think what we've got here is I am caught in a vice between two guys who have been fighting for 25 years or so and I'm trying to pacify everyone. I'm the most confused guy in the world," Greathouse said, adding that Thursday night he asked Dave Bergfeld, a sanitary district board member, to step in and see if he can straighten out the problems related to the lake level.

"I asked Dave to step in and handle it from now on and keep these people off my back. I've got enough to do keeping this district operating," Greathouse concluded.

City reductions will not stop budget deficits from growing

Even with a reduction in Granite City's monthly payroll from $84,307 to $83,000, made possible by recent layoffs of city personnel, the city still will be $404,951 in debt at the end of this fiscal year, April 30, 1982, according to a worksheet released last week by David Nolan, administrative aide to Mayor Paul Schuler.

Nolan's figures call for repayment of $900,000 in outstanding tax anticipation warrants and $300,000 in bank notes between October, 1981, and February 1982, but predict that the city will climb deeper into debt each month between January and April of 1982, unless additional forms of income are found.

The city council last week rejected the idea of imposing a utility tax on electricity, voting 9 to 5 in favor of a motion barring any type of utility tax this fiscal year.

possibly even September of 1982 could leave the city another half-million dollars in debt by the time taxes collected in the summer of 1982 are received, study of the city's expenditures and income indicates.

According to Nolan's projections, the city will have a surplus of $80,844 at the end of October, if about $350,000 of the property tax levy has been received.

Another $1,050,000 should be received in the following four months from property taxes, he projects.

The surplus at the end of October will mark the final time in the fiscal year that the city will have its head "above water," according to Nolan's projections.

With repayments of funds borrowed in June and July of this year to keep the city operating until new taxes are received, the city's cash flow outlook is expected to get steadily gloomier in the coming months.

Nolan projects deficits of $135,423 at the end of November, $243,234 at the end of December, $164,647 at the end of January, $390,665 at the end of February, $463,308 at the end of March and $404,951 at the end of the fiscal year.

Overall, the city's expenditures are not far out of line with the city's income, the report shows. This fiscal year began May 1, 1981, with a deficit of $390,238 and will end with a deficit of $404,951. Revenues during the year are expected to total $7,676,206 while expenditures during the year, including repayments of the borrowed $1.2 million, are expected to total $7,682,179, Nolan predicts.

The main problem is that new taxes will not be received at the end of the fiscal year and there will be approximately five months between the end of the fiscal year and the receipt of new taxes. That will necessitate new borrowing or the imposition of some kind of a new tax, officials have been warned.

Pontoon supports denial of zoning for trailer

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

The Pontoon Beach Board agreed to uphold a decision of the Madison County Zoning Board to deny Malcolm Thompson, 4170 Breckenridge Lane, the special use permit he had obtained earlier, during a meeting held last week.

President Paul Bennett explained that Thompson had secured the permit for a trailer that was parked on a parcel of ground that he now wants to sell and the permit was only issued for the trailer.

Board members approved a request of Walter Rowland for a personal residence to be placed on a house trailer located in Carver subdivision along Highway 162.

In other business, the Board of Trustees granted permission to the Quad-City Navy Mothers Chapter 860 to sell tags in the Pontoon Beach area on Sept. 10-11, and denied the owner-manager of Pontoon Fina Service Station a license to sell package liquor at the station, noting there were no license available at the present time.

Also approved was a bid of $60 by Lakeside Roofing Co. to repair the roof of the Village Hall. Plans to pay for the repairs have been received from the insurance company, Bennett noted.

An application submitted by Trustee Robert Vincent to purchase equipment for the police department, through the State of Illinois, to give the Village of Pontoon a lower price rate was approved by the board members.

A resident of Kaseberg Lane area requested the board provide better drainage for the north side of Kaseberg Lane where water stands stagnant until it dries up. He also asked the board to ban the use of metal containers to hold trash and garbage, as it is a health hazard and creates an unsightly area for the neighborhood.

During the open discussion with other residents, the board also heard a complaint relating to a trailer parked off Highway 162 where there are noisy parties and allegedly some damage to other homes in the area by those residing in the trailer.

In conjunction with a statement of another resident, who said large trucks are again parking on Highway 162 at an intersection causing a hazardous condition for motorists, Bennett said the situation would be corrected. He noted the board had approved Ordinance 399 that prohibits parking along Highway 162 within the corporate limits of the Village, as of March 30, 1981.

OK's higher benefits for Ill. retirees

Governor James R. Thompson has signed legislation that will increase retirement benefits for certain state and local employees and their families.

"Inflation has taken its toll on many things, including pension benefits for public employees," the governor said. "These bills will help take into account the effects of inflation and make these changes in an equitable manner."

The bills include: Senate Bill 987, which amends the State Employees' Retirement system to allow police officers of the Department of Conservation to be eligible for greater pension benefits due to the hazardous nature of their work.

About 160 employees would be affected by the measure, which requires a higher contribution to help defray the cost of the added pension benefits.

The measure was sponsored by Senator Sam Vadalabene, Edwardsville, and Representative Roger McAuliffe, Chicago.

Senate Bill 942, which amends the Chicago Teachers Retirement Fund to increase the maximum survivor benefit for a surviving spouse or minor child. The maximum for the spouse would rise from $300 to $400 a month and from $500 to $600 for the minor child. The bill was sponsored by Senator Art Berman and Representative Larry Bullock, both of Chicago.

Senate Bill 694, which amends the Judges' Retirement System to provide survivor benefits for former judges who have at least 10 years service credit.

The bill extends the same survivor annuity to former judges as current law does to judges still on the bench, as long as the former judges have 10 years of service credit.

The bill was sponsored by Senator Robert Egan and Representative Art Telcser, both of Chicago.

Senate Bill 694, which amends the Judges' Retirement System to provide survivor benefits for former judges who have at least 10 years service credit.

The bill extends the same survivor annuity to former judges as current law does to judges still on the bench, as long as the former judges have 10 years of service credit.

The bill was sponsored by Senator Robert Egan and Representative Art Telcser, both of Chicago.

County workers ok pact

Just 41 days before a meeting to begin contract negotiations for 1982, Madison County workers in Local 799 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees have voted unanimously to accept a contract for fiscal 1981.

The employees have been working without a contract since last Dec. 1, although they received a wage increase in March.

The pact voted by the union members, still has to be approved by board approval. The board meets Sept. 15.

The employees reportedly received a 30 cent per hour raise, and cost of living increases tied to the Consumer Price Index.

A union spokesperson said the first contract negotiations for next year's contract are scheduled for Oct. 5.

Contract talks between the county's negotiating committee and the union were halted last December by an injunction filed by the teamsters, who had launched an attempt to become bargaining agent for more than 400 county employees then bargained for by AFSCME.

The dispute raged for several months, along the way the two unions agreed to divvy the employees, but the county declined to negotiate with both unions.

Finally, in June, a county-sponsored election was held and AFSCME won by a 2-1 margin.

The 1981 contract, when formally approved, will be retroactive to last Dec. 1, the first day of the county's fiscal year.

New Class X crime—child exploitation

Governor James R. Thompson signed legislation last week that creates a new Class X felony for the sexual exploitation of a child.

"Exploiting children is one of the most repugnant crimes in our society," Thompson said. "This law will provide law enforcement officials with the tools they need to take these criminals off the streets and put them behind bars where they belong."

A person convicted of sexually exploiting a child could be subject to a minimum sentence of six years in prison and up to 30 years in prison with no probation and no parole.

The first portion of the bill increases penalties for the crimes of soliciting a juvenile prostitute and pimping for a juvenile from a Class 4 to a Class 3 felony.

The second part creates a new Class X crime of sexually exploiting a child. The Class X penalty would apply to anyone who confines a child under 16 years of age against his or her will by inflicting or threatening to inflict great bodily harm or by intoxication.

An offender would also be sentenced under Class X if convicted for compelling a child to become a prostitute, arranging for a child to become a prostitute, or receiving money or property from a child while knowing it resulted from prostitution.

NEW LAW ENCOURAGES SNOWMOBILE TRAILS

Governor James R. Thompson has signed Senate Bill 295, amending the Snowmobile Registration Act and the State Finance Act. It raises the registration fee from $6 to $8 and creates the Snowmobile Trail Establishment Fund in the state treasury.

The bill provides that $2 of each registration fee be sent by the Department of Conservation to non-profit snowmobile clubs for construction of snowmobile trails. It takes effect April 1, 1982.

Venice asks citizens to keep yards, homes neat

Unkept yards, high weeds, trash and papers in the street were a topic of discussion at the Venice city council last week.

It was noted that the city is about to lose seven manpower employees on Friday, Sept. 18. The council members said that Venice citizens need to help by keeping their yards neat, alleys, gutters and streets clean and weeds cut, as the city does not have the manpower to do this like they did in former years.

A house at 620 Lincoln Ave. belonging to Larry Schmidt, a former resident, needs to be condemned, the council was told by the city building inspector.

It was noted that the roof is falling in, the house is a fire hazard, and was allegedly condemned 15 years ago.

A local Community Development Committee member said that there were nine houses that have been waiting for inspection by the Madison County Community Development (MCCD) for three to four years.

One resident, a widow, said that her house was scheduled for repair work for the past four years and a MCCD inspector has yet to come by.

Mayor Tyrone Echols said, "I will check with the people in Edwardsville and see if I can't get someone moving.

Some houses they won't fix if it entails more than a certain amount of work."

Echols noted that he had filled out all the information and forms and sent them to MCCD in order to get funds for more demolition of some structures.

"While we're thinking about old things, that tin can the chief of police drives is a joke. We need to think about getting that replaced and soon," Echols said.

Echols said he wanted to thank the Madison County Board and in particular Rod Bauder and Bill Haine for paying for the fire calls in the Eagle Park area that were not paid for by the township.

GETTING READY FOR FALL. Cheryl Martin (kneeling) of Belleville and Beth Marti of Edwardsville, students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, get textbooks ready for students who will be attending classes at the University this fall. Miss Martin is a senior, majoring in business administration, while Miss Marti is a junior, majoring in commercial art. Approximately 40,000 books are distributed during the fall quarter each year. Open registration at the University will begin Sept. 23 at 1:15 p.m. Information on admissions procedures and/or registration is available by telephoning the Office of Admissions and Records at (618) 692-2720.

Students, sponsors are being sought for Operation Snowball

Interested students and sponsors are being sought so approximately 70 teenagers and 16 adult supervisors can attend the October 9 to 11 Operation Snowball event in Makanda, Ill., about eight miles from Carbondale.

AID Inc. of Collinsville aid through Information on Drugs, in cooperation with the Illinois Dangerous Drugs Commission and the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Association, are sponsoring the Region IV Operation Snowball, which is a peer leadership and education program modeled after the national award-winning Illinois Teenage Institute on Substance Abuse.

The event is founded on the belief that every human being has the capacity to make sound decisions regarding his life, based on accurate information and an understanding of himself and motivations, according to an AID spokesman.

The purpose of the event is to bring together local teenagers and professional resources to share information, correct misinformation and to examine feelings about alcohol and drug abuse and related life problems, the spokesman added.

Sponsors are sought who are willing to donate $60 per student for the three-day Operation Snowball. The donation includes room, board and transportation from Collinsville.

Past sponsors have included the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, St. John's United Church of Christ, Plum Hill Youth Fellowship, the Madison Police Benevolent League, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the District 9 Board of Education, the Madison Federation of Teachers, Ainslie Temple Hospital Unit, the Madison Recreation Department, Illinois Bell, Volunteers and others.

Persons or groups interested in sponsoring a teenager are urged to call AID Inc. at 895-6200. Donations are tax deductible and may be mailed to AID

Inc., 413b Vandalia, Collinsville, Ill., 62234.

Youths interested in attending should contact their school counselors or AID Inc. "Operation Snowball consists of activities, talks and small group discussions about relationships, communication, drug abuse and self-image. It is a chance for young people to grow and to be touched in such a way that they will be able to reach out a helping hand to other young people. It is a leadership training program that one would be unlikely to forget."

"The youth you are helping may be your own," the spokesman concluded.

Evening computer classes

Two series of computer science classes, usually offered only as day classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be scheduled in the evening, beginning fall quarter.

It is the first time SIUE has been able to offer more than the first course in computer programming languages at night, according to Robert Pendergrass, chairman of the department of mathematics, statistics and computer science.

The first class is a three-quarter sequence beginning in the fall with a course in PASCAL language. It continues winter quarter with computer organization and in spring with assembly language programming.

Each session will meet at the same time — 6:30-8:20 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays — throughout the year.

The second class is a two-quarter sequence beginning winter quarter with computers in society, an introduction to programming languages and their uses. The series continues with a course in FORTRAN, an introduction to computer programming, during spring quarter.

Both classes will meet at 6:30-8:20 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Pendergrass said the computer science classes will be the newest addition to the regular evening schedule of courses the department offers in applied mathematics, operations research and statistics. The University offers a complete program in computer science as an option in the math major for the bachelor's degree.

For additional information or to check registration requirements, interested persons may contact Robert Pendergrass at SIUE, Box 65, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026 or call 692-2394.

Karate classes offered at 'Y'

Non-Contact Karate will be offered at the Tri-City Area YMCA for the first time beginning Wednesday, Sept. 9, from 8 to 9 p.m.

Mick and Bob Tidwell will teach this new co-ed program which will emphasize body dynamics and self-defense. Mick has been the AIKF Regional Karate Champion since 1978. Registration is limited to 20 individuals. Registrations are being accepted at the Y, 2001 Edison Avenue, Granite City.

Lower federal student lunch reimbursement

New federal reimbursement rates for school breakfast and lunch programs during the 1981-82 school year have forced most school districts to increase the amount students pay for meals.

Legislation signed into law by President Reagan on Aug. 13 increases the allowable maximum charges for reduced price meals and lowers the federal reimbursement for reduced and regular price meals.

The law sets the maximum charge for a reduced price lunch at 40 cents and for a reduced price breakfast at 30 cents. For the 1980-81 school year, the maximum cost was 20 cents for a reduced price lunch and 10 cents for a reduced price breakfast.

To qualify for a free or reduced price breakfast or lunch, students must meet family income guidelines issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The 1981-82 fiscal year guidelines, issued under provisions of the new law, have adjusted the yearly family income levels to qualify for free and reduced price meals.

Beginning Sept. 1, parents with two children; family of four, and a yearly income of less than $10,990 ($10,270 under guidelines which expired June 30) qualify for free meals for the children. A family of the same size with a yearly income of less than $15,630 ($15,490 last year) qualifies for reduced price meals for the children.

The new law also revises reimbursement rates for participants in the national school lunch program. Schools serving less than 60 percent of their lunches at free or reduced prices will be reimbursed 10.5 cents for regular lunches, 69.25 cents for reduced price meals, and $1.09.25 for free meals.

Schools serving more than 60 percent of their lunches at free or reduced prices will be reimbursed 12.5 cents for regular lunches, 71.25 cents for reduced price lunches, and $1.11.25 for free lunches.

Adjusted federal reimbursement rates issued this past January for school lunch programs were 16 cents for regular price lunches, 75.5 cents for reduced price lunches, and 99.5 cents for free lunches. Also, schools that served at least 60 percent of their lunches at free or reduced prices received a slightly higher reimbursement rate.

The 1981-82 reimbursement rates for school breakfast programs are 8.25 cents for regular price breakfasts, 28.5 cents for reduced price breakfasts, and 57 cents for free breakfasts.

In addition to the federal assistance, school lunch and breakfast sponsors receive a state reimbursement of 15 cents for each free meal served to students.

Excluding the reduced price meals, sponsors of breakfast and lunch programs may establish prices for meals, milk, and a la carte items at whatever level is necessary to maintain a non-profit program.

Also effective Oct. 1, schools or institutions participating in federally-funded food service programs will not receive reimbursements for additional half-pints of milk purchased by students.

The federal family income guidelines for free or reduced price meals are the following:

Family size of one, $5,600 income level for free meals, $7,970 level for reduced price meals.

Family size of two, $7,400 for free meals and $10,530 for reduced price.

Three, $9,190 and $13,080.

Four, $10,960 and $15,630.

Five, $12,790 and $18,190.

Six, $14,570 and $20,740.

Seven, $16,370 and $23,290.

Eight, $18,160 and $25,840.

For each additional family member, add $1,790 to the income level for free meals and $2,550 for reduced price meals.

Courts terminate 5,155 cases in July

The volume of cases in Circuit Court, Third Judicial Circuit (Madison and Bond counties), increased slightly during July, but the rise of only 164 cases is considered satisfactory during the summer months, when some judges fulfill mandatory bench service in Chicago and others take vacation time off.

"The Chief Judge Joseph J. Barr and I are mildly satisfied with the report," Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell said in issuing the monthly accounting of cases.

Portell noted that 5,319 new cases were filed during July while 5,155 cases were terminated. He said there was a good gain in large law cases and in criminal cases, which is unusual during the summer months.

There also was a heavy volume of dispositions in traffic cases with 5,211 cases terminated, Portell added.

Following are the numbers of each type of case filed, terminated and pending at the end of July.

Cases	Filed	Terminated	Pending
Law cases seeking more than $15,000
Jury	68	9	2195
Non-jury	44	21	281
Law cases seeking $1,000 to $15,000
Jury	20	14	726
Non-jury	38	39	1308
Other cases
Chancery	27	25	475
Miscellaneous Remedy	29	28	450
Eminent Domain	3	1	44
Mental Health	35	40	2
Divorce	160	140	1024
Family	72	33	1920
Juvenile	98	72	234
Felony	65	75	174
Misdemeanor	455	328	1660
Small Claims	527	408	2050
Totals	1,662	1,361	12,543

Of the 75 felony defendants whose cases were terminated during the month, 61 were convicted, 10 had their cases dismissed on consolidated with other cases, one case was reduced to a misdemeanor and three others were acquitted by a jury.

Guilty pleas during the month included one for murder, five for Class X felonies, five for Class One felonies, 17 for Class Two felonies, 15 for Class Three felonies and 14 for Class Four felonies. Juries found one defendant guilty of a Class X felony, another guilty of a Class Three felony and two defendants guilty of Class Four felonies.

Felony sentences during the month included 18 persons sent to prison, 11 receiving probation with periodic imprisonment and 31 receiving probations or conditional discharges with other conditions.

Failure to report income triggers IRS problems, bar association warns

The surest way to get into trouble with the Internal Revenue Service is to fail to report income, warns George Brode Jr., a Chicago tax attorney, and immediate past chairman of the Federal Taxation Section Council of the Illinois State Bar Association.

"It doesn't matter whether the failure is an honest oversight or a calculated tax dodge," Brode said. "The IRS considers failure to report income to be a serious offense."

While those found guilty of overstating their deductions generally are forced in civil court actions to pay their unpaid taxes plus interest, persons who under-report income face criminal charges with possible prison terms and heavy fines hanging in the balance.

Typical income sources include compensation for services, including salary commissions and fees; profits from the sale of property; business income, rent, interest, royalties, dividends; annuities; alimony and separate maintenance payments; income from life insurance and endowment policies; and pensions.

Less obvious sources of income so defined by the Internal Revenue Code include:

Jury fees, punitive damage other than for personal injury, Christmas bonuses, school tuition paid by employer, prizes won in a contest, special discounts, such as decreases in rent awarded in return for managing a building; illegal transactions such as gains from gambling, robbing a bank, and embezzlement.

"People would do well to remember that the gangster, Al Capone, was jailed not for his bootlegging or vice operations, but for tax evasion," Brode said.

Bartered exchanges, such as payment in the form of goods and services, also are income.

Brode noted that the failure to report barter income has become so prevalent in recent years it has been targeted for special attention by IRS personnel.

"The initial IRS actions will probably be against companies that have established themselves as middlemen in the barter business," Brode predicted. "But with the incidence of barter increasing, people should be aware that individual participants may also be examined."

The IRS generally treats a number of sources of income as not being taxable. Some of these include:

Social security and some disability benefits, car pool receipts contributed to automobile owner by riders, child support payments, income tax refunds (federal), accident and health insurance premiums paid by employer, up to $100,000 of gain on sale of home if taxpayer is 55 or over.

Also merchandise distributed to employees on holidays, inheritances, bequests and devises, G.I. Bill benefits, a limited amount of unemployment benefits received under federal or state law.

With regard to deductions, Brode urged caution on tax shelter deals. He noted that chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Service, N. Jerold Cohen, in a speech in Chicago last September said: "The service recognizes that tax shelters are probably the major compliance problem we face today. As a result, the service has stepped up its audit coverage of tax shelters and we have taken a lot of different steps to try to identify tax shelters, to try to process the returns, propose the deficiencies, and move the cases right into court."

At the current time, the service has identified over 25,000 abusive tax shelters involving over 200,000 returns which amount to more than $6 billion in adjustments.

Brode added that although legitimate tax shelters do exist, individuals should be leary of promoters' claims. He suggested that potential investors have their tax advisor review five key areas.

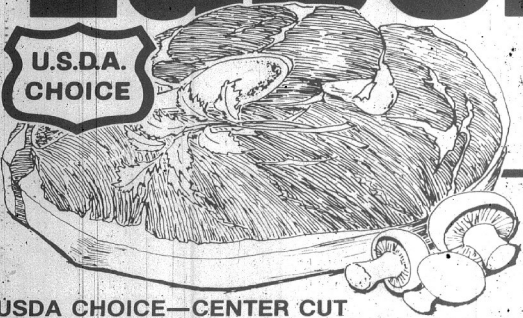

No trash pickup on Labor Day

There will not be a trash pickup on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7, according to Jim Walla, District Manager of Miami East Division of SCA Services.

Routes will be serviced one day later than usual with the exception of Friday, Walla said. He added, Thursday and Friday collections will be on Friday starting at 6 a.m. and there will not be a return pickup for late set-outs.

Chamber 'Blitz Days'

CHAMBER 'BLITZ DAYS' begin last week as Shirley Adams, above, give the first day's volunteers a final briefing before they begin their canvassing of local businesses. The groups of volunteers, which totalled more than 50 for the three days, all started at 'Ervey's Restaurant' on Pontoon Road, photo at left, where they were given packets of information to give to the businesses about the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. Approximately 500 businesses were contacted during the three-day 'blitz.'

Seminar for host families

The International Hospitality Program, a community volunteer program which watches over almost 300 foreign students at SIUE, will sponsor a seminar Sept. 12 for people wishing to learn more about becoming host families.

The seminar will be held in Room 2405 of Peck Classroom Building from 9 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Registration is $4 and includes lunch. Dr. Barbara J. Teters, vice president and provost, will give the welcoming address.

Peggy Pusch, community section consultant of the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs, will lead the sessions.

Topics to be discussed in the seminar include dealing with cultural differences, evaluating programs and future plans, exploring rewards and frustrations in international community work, and examining group creativity.

Navy Mothers set Tag Day

Members of the Quad City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, met Thursday night at the VFW Hall, and finalized plans for its annual Sailor Boy Tag Day which will be conducted Sept. 10-11 in area business places and at banks.

Commander Elizabeth Ramsey opened the meeting and announced the chapter's intent to purchase craft kits which will be sent to the paralyzed veterans at the Veterans' Hospital in San Diego, Calif.

She added, a $200 check was sent to the Navy Mothers Clubs of America to be credited and returned to the local group for welfare projects.

Hostess for the evening, Stella Miller served ice cream and cake to 16 members after the business segment.

The mystery package went to Mrs. Ramsey and the special prize was awarded to Norma Darnell. Games prizes were won by Mrs. Darnell, Margaret Minze, Bert Ethington and Vernia Spurrier.

The next business session will be held on Sept. 10 at the VFW Hall, the commander noted.

MARY SENTENCED

On Dec. 4, 1986, Queen Elizabeth confirmed the sentence against Mary Queen of Scots.

Nine dancing courses to be offered at SIUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer nine non-credit courses in exercise and dance during the fall quarter.

Sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education, the slate of courses will include instruction in ballroom, swing, ballet and belly dancing, as well as exercise through dance, Tai Chi Ch'uan, karate and yoga.

Classes in ballroom dance will be offered on Wednesdays from 7 until 8:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Tower Lake Commons Building, beginning Sept. 30. Registration is $40 per couple or $20 per individual.

Sessions in country swing are scheduled on Wednesdays from 8:30 until 10 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Tower Lake Commons Building, beginning Sept. 30. Registration is $40 per couple or $20 per individual.

Ballet lessons will be held on Mondays and Thursdays from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 28. Monday's Room 1117 of Peck Classroom Building; Thursday's, Room 1410. Registration is $40.

Basic ballet will be offered on Tuesdays from 6:30 until 8 p.m. in Room 0312 of Peck Classroom Building, beginning Sept. 29. Registration is $30.

Beginning yoga will be offered on Mondays in the Dome Room of the Religious Center, beginning Sept. 28. Registration is $30. Intermediate yoga lessons are scheduled on Tuesdays from 6 until 7 p.m. in the Dome Room of the Religious Center.

Area boat safety course scheduled

The St. Louis Power Squadron will conduct safe boating classes beginning Monday, Sept. 14, at the St. Louis County Library headquarters at 1640 S. Lindbergh Boulevard in the main auditorium.

Classes will be held every Monday night for 12 weeks starting at 7 o'clock.

All boatmen, boatwomen and young persons over 12 may attend. It is not necessary to own a boat to attend.

The course will cover every aspect of small boat handling, safety, navigation and equipment.

Instruction for the course is free. There is a $5 charge to cover the cost of the course workbook and other materials.

Dillenberger signs with McKendree

LEBANON, ILL. — A versatile baseball player from Waterloo, Ill., has decided to attend McKendree College this fall and play for the baseball team during the 1982 season.

Dave R. Dillenberger, a 1981 graduate of Waterloo High School will join the McKendree College pitching corps, as well as serve as a first baseman for the 'Cats when the situation arises.

"He's a very competitive athlete," said Coach Smith. "Dave is a power-pitcher, can play first base and he's also a good hitter."

Dillenberger, who posted a 7-2 season mark at Waterloo last season and a 6-1 record in American Legion District 22 action, has a .333 batting average.

"We have our entire pitching staff returning this season, but we needed to add some more depth and Dave will be able to step right in and help us out," Smith said.

A 6'3", 200-pounder, Dillenberger was named the most valuable player for the Waterloo team during the regional and Cabela conference championships in 1981.

He is a member of the American Legion District 22 South division championship team and was the winning pitcher for his division in the recent District 22 all-star game.

In addition to baseball, Dillenberger also receives varsity letters in basketball and soccer.

Planning to major in business, McKendree College, he is the son of E. Robert and Lyla Dillenberger of Waterloo.

Steamers sign

ST. LOUIS — Veteran forward Mal Roche has signed a contract with the St. Louis Steammers.

Although no figures were released, the club verified that it is a one-year agreement with an option for 1982. Roche becomes the 18th player under contract to the MISL's Central Division Champions.

He joined the Steammers late last season with teammate Bob Bozada, when the club was experiencing a flood of injuries, especially with the forwards. He appeared in only five games, scoring two goals.

Roche, who will turn 29 in September, is a native of Coventry, England, and was a 1976 graduate of the University of San Francisco. He played on the NCAA champion Dons in 1975 and 1976.

The five-year veteran of the American Soccer League is currently with the Carolina Lightnin', where he has scored eight goals this year. He was named the league's Rookie of the Year in 1977 and 1978, led the league in scoring and was named its Most Valuable Player.

Robert Reeves receives degree

Robert W. Reeves, 1921 Fifth St., Madison, completed an NCATE approved teacher education program and has received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, with a concentration in social studies.

He is the son of Alderman and Mrs. Robert Don Reeves of Madison, and brother of Miss Donna E. Reeves, a teacher in the Madison School District.

At the present time he is working at Rayanelli's Restaurant.

TAKE FIVE. Madison's Jeff Niehaus (right) gives a teammate a punjabi stiff-arm during a practice session at the school Friday evening. Madison's football and soccer teams are practicing daily in preparation for their season-openers. The football team opens Saturday, Sept. 12 at Breese Central. The soccer team will begin its season this Thursday, Sept. 3 at home against Belleville Altoft.

Bears' air show pummels Big Red

Special to the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — Vince Evans was on track here Saturday night. The St. Louis Cardinals weren't. The result? A 31-27 victory at Busch Stadium for Evans and his Chicago Bears in the final pre-season exhibition game for both teams.

The reason for the Bears' win in a word was passing. Lots and lots of passing. Mainly by Evans and also mainly over, through and around the Cardinals' defense. "There'll be some games where the passing works. There'll be some where the running works," said Evans. "I think our win tonight gave us a lot of confidence. Especially our receivers."

Evans has been battling Bob Avellini and Mike Phipps for the starting quarterbacking job for some time in Chicago. But his performance against the Big Red Saturday may have given him a leg up on them. He completed 15 of 19 passes for 217 yards, no interceptions and two touchdowns. He completed 13 of his first 14 pass attempts. He also scored a touchdown himself on a quarterback sneak.

Meanwhile, on the other side, St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart was having a rough night. But that's to be understood from a guy who's not avoiding one. The put it simply, the Cardinals' pass protection wasn't exactly what it should have been.

Which problem is worse — the pass defense or the quarterback protection? "I'm obviously concerned about both," said St. Louis head coach Jim Hanifan. "When the other team throws for almost 400 yards against you, you're concerned."

The three Bears QBs combined to complete 23 of 34 passes for 399 yards and three touchdowns.

The game wasn't without its bright spots for the football Cardinals, who finished one of their best pre-seasons in recent years with a 2-1 record. After Evans had given his team a 7-0 lead with his QB sneak, Big Red running back Stump Mitchell gave the hometown fans something to cheer about when he returned the ensuing kickoff 104 yards for a game-tying touchdown.

But back came the Bears. Ricky Watts was on the receiving end of a 24-yard touchdown pass from Evans to give Chicago a 14-7 lead at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the Cardinals were able to climb to within 14-10 when placekicker Neil O'Donoghue kicked a 40-yard field goal.

Another Chicago TD made it 21-10. Then O.J. Anderson scored on a 3-yard run to make it 21-17.

The two teams traded field goals in the third quarter. But the key play in the game came in the fourth period. That's when Watts took a pass from Phipps, turned All-Pro cornerback Roger Wehrli all the way around and raced untouched into the end zone — 76 yards away. That made it 31-21 and broke the Cardinals' back.

But not without a fight. "With rookie quarterback Neil Lomax at the helm, St. Louis matched 96 yards in displays, the final play being a one-yard plunge by Randy Loe. But as it turned out, it was too little too late.

BIG RED TALENT: The Cardinals will swing into the regular season at home next Sunday when they host the Miami Dolphins at Busch Stadium. Kickoff time is set for 1:15 p.m. In their final pre-season game Friday night, the Dolphins routed the Kansas City Chiefs 31-7.

Attendance at the Cardinals' only pre-season game at home was 48,793.

On the subject of the pass defense of St. Louis, Hanifan said, "One of the things obvious to me was that some of our people weren't playing proper technique on our coverages. It has to get down to a matter of discipline. They (the defenders) have to discipline themselves."

Wehrli was victimized twice. In addition to the Watts game-winning TD, the speedy Bear receiver also burned him on the 24-yard score when the All-Pro cornerback missed a tackle.

Pedestrian hit by Delivery van

A pedestrian, Rodney Caselton, 33, of 2965 Buxton Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center after being struck by a newspaper delivery van at 3 a.m. Sunday in the street in front of 2315 Myrtle Ave.

Caselton appeared to have escaped serious injury but has marks on the right arm and hip area.

Ray A. Yount, 17, of 2351 Morrison said he was driving south while delivering papers when he felt a bump. Stopping the van, he found Caselton lying on the pavement. An ambulance was summoned.

A bill requiring operators of amusement rides and attractions to have at least $1 million in liability insurance has been signed into law by Governor James R. Thompson.

"The need for legislation like the one I signed stems from potentially serious accidents from unsafe amusement rides," Thompson said. "By maintaining liability insurance of $1 million, amusement ride operators are given a strong financial incentive to maintain safe conditions."

Consumer Product Safety Commission statistics estimate that in the last year there were nearly 6,000 injuries and 10 deaths nationally from unsafe rides, Thompson said.

The bill, the Amusement Ride and Attractions Safety Insurance Act, calls for the Department of Insurance to judge the acceptability of an operator's insurer.

The measure also exempts certain types of amusement ride operators from carrying the liability insurance, such as non-mechanized playground equipment, an amusement ride or attraction owned and operated by a non-profit religious, educational or charitable institution, and an attraction located in a building inspected by the State Fire Marshal.

New law to require school attack reports

Governor James R. Thompson has amendingly vetoed two bills, including Senate Bill 612, which requires school boards, through their superintendents, to report attacks on teachers and other school personnel to local law enforcement authorities within 24 hours and to the State Board of Education within three days.

He amended the bill, making the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement responsible for keeping records of attacks on teachers, rather than the State Board of Education. Senate Bill 612 calls for the Department of Public Health to create rules requiring the testing of newborns for hypothyroidism and galactosemia. The governor amendingly vetoed a portion of the bill, then specified the type of tests for newborns, saying that it would result in an unnecessary expense.

Air controller testing planned

The director of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management, Donald J. Devine, says OPM will begin testing applicants for the job of air traffic controller on Oct. 15, with the testing period to run through Nov. 30.

An open application period for the ATC job began on Aug. 17. After two days of the open period, a total of 9,158 persons had submitted applications for the position.

The applicants will be given a new air traffic controller examination, under development for six years, in a joint project of OPM and the Federal Aviation Administration. The present exam had been used for nearly 30 years, having gone into use in March 1952.

Devine said, "The new examination will allow a more accurate selection of ATC candidates capable of successfully completing the FAA training program for air traffic controllers. Studies of the new test indicate that it will reduce the number of 'wash-outs' at the FAA Academy in Oklahoma City by around ten percent.

"The average failure rate under the old exam averaged 30 percent in one class, reaching 36 percent in another."

"The old exam became less predictive as the controller's job and state-of-the-art technology changed."

ATC candidates selected for training at the FAA Academy will be drawn from the controller register, which contains the names of 5,500 individuals who have taken and passed the ATC exam during previous open application periods.

"Even taking into consideration the FAA's plans to step up the number of classes being trained at their academy, the group of applicants already certified eligible on our register will provide a more than ample pool of students for the academy until the new test is given in October and November," Devine said.

Learn to swim classes set

The Tri-City Area YMCA will continue its Learn-To-Swim program on Tuesday, Sept. 8. Swim classes are available for individuals six months through Senior Citizens of all ability levels. Convenient daily schedules are available and include 45-minute classes throughout the day on a twice-a-week schedule as well as complete eight-week Saturday morning schedule.

The YMCA advises that children learning to swim should continue their instructional phase until they are completely water safe. The famous YMCA progressive swim program provides complete instruction for the beginner at any age through advanced swim and lifesaving skills. The YMCA pool is maintained at a temperature of 82-84 degrees F. year-round. For your class schedule, call the YMCA at 876-7200.

The YMCA Drop-In Center for children is available for use by members and program participants from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.
